BERNARD SHAW SAYS CARPENTIER WILL WIN

HAPGOOD Says

Rumblings Are Heard at National Capital of Coming Conflict Between G. O. P. Factions.

Washington, June 30.—Nobody can fellow Washington news intelligently just now unless he bears two things in mind. One is the existence of a honeymoon, still playing the leading role. The other is the stirring of discontent, especially on Capitol Hill, threatening to take the leading role for its own. The next month or two is going to see a lively tussle between these two forces for first place. Second place will not be much good. Second money in a pulse fight often means more than most of us can get hold of. But it won't be like that in the contest between the regular forces and the insurgent forces. Either the insurgents will look foolish soon, or they will hold the whip hand.

NORMAN HAPGOOD

Everybody knows about Methuselah. He is one of the most famous men who ever lived. But there was another man only four years younger than he. He trained just as hard, swung the Indian clubs just as many times before breakfast, was as careful in his diet, and came within four years of tieing the record. Yet probably not one reader of this article can tell his name.

In the preliminary tactics between the two Republican factions there is little encounter now on. It is not nearly as important as the doings of the agricultural block, where some twenty senators and some hundred congressmen of both parties were lined up together.

It is not nearly as important as the sharp exchanges that passed between Republicans of the different factions on the beer bill. Senator McCormick is going to be regular when the spit comes, apparently, and the things he and Senator Norris said to each other about beef, showed that the love existing between them was limited.

In the jockeying for position over how to handle the Best Trust the insurgents were beaten by a strange piece of parliamentary carelessness. Senator Kenyon was in a hurry to get away to some engagements. He brought in some amendments to the vicious House bill that had just been suggested. They were improvements decidedly, and without clear knowledge of what they were doing, the insurgents, after getting these amendments, voted for the bill.

It passed the Senate, when the insurgents had a good chance to kill it. They woke up and realized that they were in the position of having voted for a bill that will leave the packers more untrammelled than they are now. Norris, Kenyon and Kendrick represent the Senate in conference, and an attempt will be made to restore the fight against the bill, but the parliamentary slip makes it much harder to do anything.

The explanation, no doubt, lies in the fact that for the insurgents the bulk of the work has to be done by a few men that they are always overworked. The big fight, when it comes, will be exactly along these lines—the relation of big business to government. Such questions require a lot of hard work.

Although the meeting of Mondell with a hundred complaining new Republican members of the House does not compare in importance with these deeper rumblings, it has its bearing. It represents, not a long-distance plan, like the other symptoms, but a general political discontent. This discontent is still slight. It cannot be heard by the general ear, but Congressmen, through their letters from home, hear of these stirrings before most of us do.

Mondell's job is to disc this soap on the new boys and make them think they are enjoying a flapdoodle amount of importance. With some of them this will not be difficult. Soap all they need to settle back into a happy life.

But some of them know what they are up to. Some of them will receive the soap in the same spirit that it has been received by Senator Ladd, most important of the new Senators. Mr. Ladd has been generosity itself. The bosses put their arms around him and call him pet names and act as if they loved him as much as ever they loved Penrose or Knox.

Ladd takes it all happily but meantime becomes a powerful and independent member of the left, along with Norris, LaFollette, Borah, Johnson, Capper, Lenroot, Kenyon and the others. Republican and Democratic who will undertake to make history when the moment comes.

I hate to suggest anything so secret as this: Mr. Mondell has personal reasons to worry, apart from his reasons as leader. So has the Senate leader, Mr. Lodge. If you can remember my words for a year just note what happens in Massachusetts and Wyoming and inside the Republican party.

STILLMAN FACES NEW GRILLING

$35,000 ROBBERY ON BOSTON TRAIN

BANKER ON STAND IS DEFIANT

Undergoes Cross-Examination by Attorney Mack, Baby Guy's Counsel

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 30.—James A. Stillman, angry and defiant after his brush of yesterday with his wife's lawyers, faced the cross-examiner's lash here again today.

He was prepared to repeat his strategy of yesterday and met troublesome questions with a blunt "I won't say."

But while yesterday the multi-millionaire banker was quizzed by lawyers for Mrs. Elsie Vaughan Stillman, the wife he seeks to divorce, today he was to face John E. Mack, counsel for little Guy Stillman, the son he has disowned.

MRS. STILLMAN SMILES

Mack had prepared a long list of questions, some of them the same ones asked yesterday by counsel for Mrs. Stillman, and of a distinctly annoying nature to the banker.

Stillman was to be again questioned regarding his relations with Florence Gerbe, the paternity of little Jay eLeb; and that host of irritating interrogatories which yesterday caused him to writhe in acute mental torture.

Stillman's refusal to answer the questions regarding Mrs. Leeds and other women was a complete surprise. A denial had been expected.

The reason he assigned for his refusal to answer was an even more stunning surprise, for he declared that to answer the questions would be to "incriminate himself."

Mrs. Stillman, who faced him across the table in Referee Gleason's office, allowed herself a fleeting smile of triumph as this astonishing admission was made.

RUNNING TRUE TO FORM.

Later she commented: "He is running true to form. He is crawling behind the so-called constitutional privilege of refusing to answer on the ground that it might incriminate him.

"Isn't that reason in itself the most illuminating phase of his appearance on the witness stand?"

Stillman flatly refused to identify

LEAVES BABY IN SOUTH STATION

A pretty baby boy, about two months old, is awaiting a claimant at the Chardon Street Home today.

A woman, presumably the mother, left the child in care of Miss Gertrude Hurley of Second street, East Cambridge, in the South Station, saying she was going to purchase some fruit.

When the woman failed to return after an hour had gone by, Miss Hurley gave the infant into the care of the police.

The child was expensively clad and wrapped in a white blanket. He wore a white jacket, blue knit bootees and socks.

FLAGLER VICTOR IN $75,000 SUIT

New York, June 30.—It took a jury in Justice Mullen's division of the Supreme Court just ten minutes to return a verdict for John H. Flagler in the $75,000 suit brought by George Blake Bender, the eighty-year-old multi-millionaire, whose secret third marriage a few weeks ago brought him much publicity, was the strongest witness for himself. He denied he had agreed to pay certain sums to Bender for the latter's services in organizing the Society of Justice, Inc.

MALDEN TEACHER WEDS N. H. PASTOR

Miss Anna E. Nelson, one of the Emerson Grammar School, Malden, teachers, has become the bride of Rev. Charles D. Maurer, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Exeter, N. H. They were married at the Emmanual Lutheran Church, Boston.

Happy, Despite Break in Marital Ties

Mrs. Oelrichs Daily Visits Bailey's Beach, Where Newport's "400" Seek Recreation

MRS. OELRICHS GETS PARIS DIVORCE

Mrs. Marjorie Turnbull Oelrichs, Newport social leader, who has confirmed report of her divorce from Charles DeLoosey Oelrichs, to whom she was married in 1907. She declines, however, to state upon what grounds she brought suit. Looking very smart and happy Mrs. Oelrichs is a daily visitor at exclusive Bailey's Beach. The couple have one daughter, Marjorie, 13 years old.

NEWPORT LEADERS SEPARATE

Wife of Charles De Loosey Oelrichs Silent on Reasons for Seeking Freedom

Newport, R. I., June 30—Mrs. Marjorie Turnbull Oelrichs has divorced her husband, Charles DeLoosey Oelrichs of this city, the decree having been obtained in Paris.

Mrs. Oelrichs freely admitted this fact today at her Summer residence, No. 240 Gibbs avenue, Newport, although she refused to say upon what grounds she brought action.

Prominent in the exclusive social set here, Mrs. Oelrichs declared that she would be glad to avoid a "big noise" about the matter. Any further details she said, must come from her attorney, Delancey Nicholas, of New York.

Apparently in no wise cast down by the severance of her marital ties, she visits fashionable Bailey's Beach every afternoon, where she spends much time, and is looking very smart and happy.

Before her marriage, she was Miss Marjorie R. Turnbull, daughter of the late Frank Turnbull, U. S. N., of Morristown, N. J. Her husband is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles May Oelrichs, of Newport. They were married April 17, 1907, in the parish house of St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, by Monsignor Lavelle, pro-rector of the cathedral. A daughter, Marjorie, was born to them June 29, 1908.

FEARS JACK HASN'T A CHANCE

Shaw Depicts Georges as Invincible Fighter Sure to Win Title

By GEORGE BERNARD SHAW.

(Who shares with Masterlinck the reputation of being the only intellectual deeply versed in the science of pugilism.)

Copyright by Universal Service

London, June 30.—The time is evidently near when journalists will have to obtain a certificate of competence, like navigating officers, before they are allowed to navigate the ship of state and hypnotize and psycho-analyze the helpless public by their pens.

I hope they will examine applicants just as strictly in pugilism as in political economy, when that time comes. And by pugilism I mean not only the art of boxing but the art of living by betting on prize fights.

50 TO 1 AGAINST JACK.

I affirm on my reputation for knowing what I write about that if all the editors and reporters who have been ordering and contributing articles about the coming contest in New Jersey had been put through twelve rounds with competent professionals after due training and had supported themselves and their families for a year by betting on the ring 90 per cent. of these articles would not have been written and 99 of them would have been contemptuously rejected as bookmakers' advertisements.

The last article of this kind at which I have glanced declares that the odds against Carpentier are four to one.

How has this result been brought about in the face of the fact that the real odds are fifty to one against Dempsey?

Clearly, according to the passionate assurances of all the leading American pugilists, Carpentier hasn't a dog's chance against his American opponent.

GEORGES INVINCIBLE.

Descriptive reporters have helped by repeating well worn pen pictures of the Frenchman as a withered lily, pale and visibly out of health, ludicrously inferior in strength and substance and stamina to the invincible conqueror of Jess Willard, conqueror of the invincible Jack Johnson, conqueror of the invincible Jim Jeffries, conqueror of all the invincibles of his time.

Why do pugilists and reporters go

GRAFT EVIDENCE GOES TO WALSH

Senator Gets Further Charges of Favoritism in Vets' Vocational Board

Washington, June 30.—Further evidence of graft, inefficiency and political favoritism in the Federal Board of Vocational Education has been placed in the hands of Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, it was announced today at the convention of the National Disabled Soldiers' League.

The evidence is contained in an affidavit signed by a former member of the board and will come to light when the affidavit is taken up by the Senate investigating committee of which Senator Walsh is chairman.

Senator Walsh's campaign on behalf of disbled soldiers was indorsed in resolutions passed by the convention. Other resolutions called for half-fares for disabled soldiers over all railroads, and demanded that the federal board for vocational training cease turning over compensation checks for payment of debt claims without consent of the soldiers.

John T. Nolan of Washington was elected National Commander, succeeding Charles H. Gillin, who was endorsed for the office of director of the federal board of vocational training.

Other officers elected were: Eugene McGill, Philadelphia, first vice-commander; Thomas Fields, Jersey City, second vice-commander; James L. Cartwright, Los Angeles, third vice-commander; Henry G. Barnes, Jackson, Michigan, fourth vice-commander, and Frank Coakley of New York treasurer.

Father Duffy, "Fighting Chaplin" of the sixty-ninth New York regiment, was elected National chaplin and Samuel Reed of New York, adjutant.

Gordon C. MacMasters of No. 14 Teel avenue, Somerville, will have charge of issuing all permits under the dry laws. Hartlitle is chief inspector.

BEAT VICTIM ON HEAD WITH CLUB

Youthful Bandits Flee as East Boston Man Shouts for Help

Two young men, ostensibly seeking to purchase cigarettes, beat Harry Goldstein of No. 133 Putnam street, East Boston, on the head, and attempted to hold him up with a revolver in his store at that address.

Goldstein's cries frightened away the bandits, and he collapsed just as a policeman appeared, being taken to the East Boston Relief Hospital suffering from a wound in the scalp.

According to police, the two men entered Goldstein's store as he was preparing to close up, and asked for a package of cigarettes. As he turned one of the men struck him on the head with a club. Goldstein whirled, only to gaze into the muzzle of a revolver, and he met with a demand for money. Instead of "giving up" he shouted lustily for help and the men fled.

MILLIONS SAVED BY HEAVY RAIN

All Night Downpour Boon to the Crops, Breaking Long Drought

Farmers and truck gardeners of New England estimated today that millions of dollars' worth of foodstuffs had been saved by the heavy downpour of last night, breaking the drought which has obtained here for weeks.

At the same time the rainfall for the month of June is still two inches below normal, and an inch or more of precipitation is needed daily for three days, according to the Weather Man.

By 8 a. m. yesterday the total rainfall was only .93 of an inch in Boston but by 5 p. m. .31 of an inch more had fallen. Shortly after 10 o'clock, however, the rain began to fall in earnest, and for more than an hour the clouds seemed to be emptying themselves to the accompaniment of thunder and lightning.

SEAPLANES USED IN NEW OIL FIELDS

Washington, June 30.—World production of crude petroleum has grown from 51,000,000 metric tons in 1913 to 97,000,000 in 1920, according to a confidential report made to the British government. Incidentally, the report reveals that seaplanes are being used in the development of British controlled fields in Venezuela.

Add Joy to Living With an Automobile

An automobile may be made a means of profit and economy, and so become an economic necessity, but not everybody realizes its necessity as a promoter of joy and happiness, therefore of efficiency.

Just now especially, the fresh air which one enjoys in an open car is not only joy-giving, but life-giving — equal almost to a vacation to one who is necessarily shut up in an office most of the day.

You can add this pleasure to your daily life and to the life of your family without a large expenditure if you will enlist the aid of our "Automobile Exchange" columns. Here you will find cars with every appearance of being new and with every facility for giving service.

REWARD OF $4,000 IS OFFERED

Jewelry of New York Couple Stolen From Stateroom of Shore Line Express

A $35,000 jewel robbery on a Boston-bound train became known today.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. William H. Donaldson of No. 140 West Fifty-seventh street, New York.

They were on their way to Plymouth to celebrate their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary.

The robbery stopped the celebration.

Donaldson is editor of Billboard, a theatrical paper. He has offered a reward of $4,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson boarded a Shore Line train of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. in New York.

They retired in their stateroom, and in the morning when awakened the jewels were safe.

After the couple dressed they discovered the gems, which were in a silk mesh bag, had disappeared, with $325 in bank notes.

The jewelry included a pearl necklace valued at $15,000; five diamond rings, $15,000; a platinum bar pin set with diamonds, $5,000; a bracelet, set with diamonds, $3,000, and a gun metal watch, $35.

TRIES TO SHOOT FORMER WIFE

Jaffrey, N. H., Man Fires Rifle Twice and Then Flees to the Woods

Jaffrey, N. H., June 30.—After firing two shots from a rifle at his former wife, Charles Champney, a laborer, was disarmed by the woman and James Perry, and fled to the woods.

A big posse was formed which immediately began to beat the timber surrounding this place. According to the authorities, Champney spent a year in jail at one time for shooting at his first wife.

BAPTISTS ASK BAN ON DEMPSEY FIGHT

Des Moines, Ia., June 30.—The northern Baptist convention has condemned the Dempsey-Carpentier fight. A resolution asking that the fight be prohibited was passed by the convention after it had previously rejected a similar measure. The first resolution, however, contained a clause asking Congress to bar fight stories from the mails. The convention also condemned feminine dress and the behavior of women in public as a menace to American morality.

STILLMAN FACES NEW GRILLING

Banker Angry and Defiant Is Quizzed by John E. Mack, Baby Guy's Counsel

He perspired freely on the stand and his face was red. But he held himself in restraint and made his peculiar answers courteously and with proper respect for the court.

Mrs. Stillman, flanked by her attorneys, never let her eyes leave his face during his ordeal. He never looked her in the eye.

She wore an expensively simple frock, a smart turban with a flare front of black crepe de chine, ornamented with brilliants, black leather pumps and sheer silk stockings.

Stillman's appearance at the hearing was a shock to newspaper photographers who had been lying in wait at the front entrance.

STILLMAN DISGUISED.

It developed that he went to the scene of the hearing two hours before it was to begin, disguised himself in huge blue goggles, was piloted up dark back stairs to a small anteroom, and was kept hidden there until it was time for him to appear to testify.

It was not entirely a day of triumph for Mrs. Stillman, however.

While her husband, held on a leash by his lawyers, repeated monotonously, "I won't answer that," the next witness, Edward J. Lawler, landscape gardener, testified freely that he had listened in on a telephone conversation between Mrs. Stillman and Fred Beauvais, Indian guide, in which terms of endearment were ardent and plentiful.

Banker Stillman's appearance today was distinctly against his wishes.

He was willing to keep the stand all night, but wanted to get the ordeal over in one sitting.

When Attorney Mack pointed out that Baby Guy had, through counsel, a right to cross examine, the banker gave in with the best grace possible and promised to return.

LESS CRIME AS WAR BAN LIFTS

By Universal Service.

Washington, June 30.—Crime has decreased in England with the lifting of restrictions on amusements and the sale of alcoholic beverages. Recent statistics show, according to a report receive by the Department of Commerce from the office of the American consulate-general in London, that there was less crime during the past year than for several during a quarter of a century or more.

Stillman Refuses to Identify His Own Photograph and Signature

Poughkeepsie, June 30.—After being smuggled into the hearing room by way of a back alley and a boiler room, Banker James A. Stillman refused to identify his own signature and his own photograph on the ground that such identification might tend to incriminate him. Mr. Stillman was so shy on the witness stand that he refused to answer all of the following questions on similar grounds:

"Was the yacht Modesty christened by Florence H. Leeds?"

"Were you ever at No. 64 East Eighty-ninth street?"

"Were you ever at No. 242 West Forty-ninth street?"

"Were you ever a tenant at house in West Eighteenth street?"

"Did you purchase an apartment at No. 969 Park avenue?"

"Who is the captain of the yacht Modesty?"

"Where did the Modesty go after it was launched?"

"Did you know a cottage at Miami, Florida, occupied by Mrs. Leeds?"

"Did you visit her there?"

"Was it called the 'Love nest'?"

"Did you buy this 'Love Nest'?"

"Was the yacht Modesty there?"

"Do you recognize this photograph?" (one of Stillman).

"Do you really believe that it might tend to incriminate you to identify your own photograph?"

"Do you recognize this photograph?" (one of Jay Leeds).

"Did you create a trust fund recently for the benefit of Jay Leeds?"

"Did you have a gold cocktail shaker on the yacht Modesty with two gold cocktail glasses presented to you by Mrs. Leeds?"

"Did you have a cocktail shaker on board?"

"Do you know a woman named 'Helen' who came on board the yacht?"

"Did you know a woman named 'Clara' at 242 West Forty-ninth street?"

"Did you know the woman who kept the apartment at 242 West Forty-ninth street?"

"Did you know a man who boarded there?"

"Is this your signature?" (shown a letter).

"Is this your signature?" (shown another letter).

"Have you more than one automobile?"

After a long colloquy the referee directed the witness to answer the question. His reply was "Yes."

"What make automobile did you have?"

"Did you sign this application to the Secretary of State for an automobile license in 1918?" (This application bore his signature.)

CRAIG REFUSAL STIRS LONDON

Newspapers Fear Unionist Leader Has Obscured Attitude of De Valera

By International News Service.

London, June 30.—Despite new obstacles in the path of the proposed Irish peace parley, the opinion was expressed in many quarters today that the conference would eventually be held.

"Does De Valera really want peace?" queries the Daily Mail in commenting upon the Sinn Fein president's second message to Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster.

The newspaper regrets that Sir James Craig refused De Valera's invitation to go to Dublin Monday and attend the Sinn Fein-Unionist conference.

"Sir James Craig's refusal will undoubtedly help to obscure De Valera's real attitude," the Mail declares.

The Times asserts De Valera's reply to Sir James Craig's refusal to confer with him is "the work of a theoretical politician rather than that of a statesman.

The message which De Valera sent to Sir James Craig at Belfast follows:

"I regret that you cannot come for a conference here Monday. Premier Lloyd George's proposal is impossible of acceptance in its present form. Irish political differences ought to be adjusted and can be adjusted, I believe, upon Irish soil. But it is obvious that in negotiations with Great Britain the Irish delegation ought not to be divided, but should act as a unit on some common public line.

It was stated that the Dublin conference would be held despite Sir James Craig's absence. Other Unionist leaders will be present.

ALLEN INVOLVES 2 LAWYERS

Alleges Tufts Failed to Prosecute Clients of His Law Partners

New specifications against District Attorney Tuttle, alleging that in twenty-three cases he either failed to prosecute, or to bring suit against bondsmen when defendants defaulted, were filed with the Supreme Court by Attorney-General Allen.

Three of these cases involve George Stanley Harvey and Frank W. Campbell, Boston law associates of Tufts. Allen alleges that they were counsel for defendants whom Tufts failed to prosecute.

The three cases were:

Florence M. Scales, charged with a statutory offense, February 25, 1919.

Frederick W. Boyd, charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and with drunkenness, December 8, 1920.

Harold S. Chambers, charged with larceny, November 1, 1919, and with attempted larceny, July 2, 1920.

In the nineteen other cases, Allen alleges that Tuttle failed to bring suit to recover sureties when the defendants were defaulted. The cases and the dates of default were as follows:

Larceny, Jack Levy, June 16, 1920; Harry H. Hansen, June 14, 1921; Samuel Levin, October 4, 1920; I. Cohen, Shaughnessy, September 29, 1920.

Larceny from the person and vagabond, Harry Dewar, June 14, 1920, on both cases.

Larceny and receiving, Daniel McGilvray, March 10, 1920.

Receiving stolen goods, James Hughes, November 25, 1920; Ernest Lisegar, November 23, 1920.

Breaking and entering, Abraham Spilberg, October 6, 1920; Francis H. Doyle, October 4, 1920.

Statutory offence, William J. Shaughnessy, September 28, 1920.

Auto violations, Charles H. White, November 13, 1919; Harry L. Roach, September 17, 1920; Morris J. Gale, November 11, 1920; James H. Ellis, March 18, 1921; George Sanigrandi, November 15, 1920; John D. Gregory, September 15, 1920; Vagabond, Leo Romano, January 14, 1920.

2 EAST BOSTON PRIESTS HURT

Revs. William and Charles A. Ulrich Hurled to Street in Wellesley Crash

Hurled from their automobile when it was struck by a motor truck in Wellesley Hills, the Revs. William and Charles A. Ulrich, brothers, both connected with East Boston churches, were painfully and possibly seriously injured.

The two priests were on their way back to Boston after visiting their sister, who lives in Natick.

The Rev. William, the younger, who is curate at the Church of the Assumption, East Boston, struck on his head when thrown from the machine and was picked up unconscious.

He was taken to the home of Jerome Murphy, in Wellesley Hills, and Dr. George M. Jones, who was summoned, found that besides cuts and bruises he had three broken ribs.

The Rev. Charles A., who is pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Orient Heights, was less seriously injured, but suffered from shock and severe cuts and bruises.

After first aid treatment by Dr. Jones, the two priests were taken back to their sister's home in Natick.

According to Callahan, he hit the agitator to which the priests were riding when he turned out to avoid striking three students from the Academy of the Assumption, who were crossing the street.

Two Witnesses Place Alleged Slayer In Plymouth on Day of Double Murder

In an effort to save himself from the electric chair, Bartolomeo Vanzetti of Plymouth, will take the witness stand today in Dedham Superior Court, according to his counsel.

He and Nicola Sacco are charged with murder in the first degree as the result of the payroll holdup killings at South Braintree fourteen months ago.

Vanzetti's counsel has already told the jury that his client was in South Braintree at the time of the double murder.

ALIBI FOR VANZETTI.

That Bartolomeo Vanzetti purchased a piece of cloth from him at Plymouth at noon on the day of the South Braintree murders was the testimony of Joseph Rosen of Plymouth street, Dorchester, a peddler of woolens. He was the first witness called by Counsel Orlando Orlandini to establish an alibi for Vanzetti.

"I met Vanzetti that day at the corner of Castle and Main streets, Bealdo," he said. He had a push cart and was selling fish. I had met him once before about two months previously. I showed him a piece of cloth I had for sale and he went to my house to show to a lady. I finally sold him a piece of cloth. When I first met him on the street that day it was about 12 o'clock. I remember hearing the noon whistle of the Plymouth Cordage Company blow.

Under cross examination Rosen could not tell where he was April 15, 1921, or June 15. He could not tell what day of the week April 15, 1921, came on. The last time he was in Plymouth was April 15, 1920.

VANZETTI AT HOUSE.

Mrs. Alphonsa Brini, of No. 1 Cherry court, North Plymouth, testified that she saw Rosen at her home on the day of the murder.

"Mr. Vanzetti was with him," she testified. They called between 11:30 and 12 o'clock noon. Vanzetti showed me a piece of cloth and we talked about it. I bought eighteen cents at the time.

Vanzetti and Rosen stayed at my house a few minutes. I don't recall ever seeing Rosen before. The first time I saw Vanzetti the day was between 10:30 and 11 o'clock, when I went to the home of Mrs. Lucy Perrel, my landlady, who lives eighty to ninety feet away. I recall the week before that was the first week home from the hospital."

Under cross-examination Mrs. Brini testified Vanzetti lived at her home four years ago. She also recalled the time Vanzetti bought the cloth because her illness became serious. She was operated on and she had her husband telephone a woman doctor on April 15th. The doctor called that day.

ENDS LIFE BY DIVE FROM TREE

Westboro, June 30.—Rafaele Teguani of Framingham, an inmate at the Westboro State Hospital for the Insane, died instantly when he dived head first from the top of a high tree to which he had escaped after having inflicted a wound with an axe which resulted in the death of Peter Orcinelli of Zanesville, another inmate.

Both men were engaged in chopping down trees when the first fatality occurred. They are believed to have been on good terms and witnesses declare no argument preceded the blow.

After an investigation officials stated they believed that Teguani's axe slipped accidentally and struck O'Connell in the neck, and becoming frightened when he saw the blood gush from the wound, Teguani ran to the tree, where he perched himself in one of the top branches.

When he saw the inmates approaching to take him into the building Teguani lifted his axe to cry and threw himself to the ground.

HANDS BABY TO MAN, DISAPPEARS

Portsmouth, N. H., June 30.—A woman, thought to have joined her home on a Boston train, abandoned a handsome four-months-old baby girl on Deer street, near the Boston & Maine station. She met John Koldrs and requested him to hold the child and a bundle while she went for milk. She did not return for an hour and the man turned the baby over to the police. The baby was well dressed.

The woman is described as twenty years of age, light complexion, four feet six inches in height, wore dark blue suit with beaded circles in bottom of dress, dark coat, small brown hat, dark hair puffed over ears, dark shoes and stockings, good looking and American.

NAB DEER ISLAND FUGITIVE IN MAINE

RICH MISSOURI BEAUTY TO 'SHOW' HUB ACCUSERS 'SOMETHING'

SPITE LED TO ARREST, SAYS GIRL

Miss Ruslin, Accused of Ruining Records, Denies Smoking While at Work

Miss Anna S. Rusling, a brunette beauty, graduate of an Eastern college and wealthy in her own right, who must appear in the Municipal Court July 6 to answer to the charge of destroying "written books of account" belonging to a motor corporation in the Back Bay where she was employed, is mad.

She charges her persecution is due to spite. Being a native of Missouri, she defiantly declares that the members of the motor company who brought the charges will "have to show me, and incidentally, I may show them something before it is over."

Miss Rusling is the daughter of the late Fred Arden Rusling, a Missouri and Indiana manufacturer of electrical supplies. She came to Boston from New York last February, to be near her uncle, the late Charles Rusling of Concord and took rooms at No. 823 Beacon street, Back Bay.

REFUSED MONEY VOUCHERS.

She obtained a housekeeper's position at the Motors Corporation of New England.

Discussing the charges against her, Miss Rusling said:

"It was simply a case of spite on the part of the office foreman when I went over his head to the manager," asserted Miss Rusling. "The pages that I tore out of the book were not the property of the corporation.

"Here is the way it started," she said. "The office manager took some money that was in my charge and refused to give me vouchers for the same.

"I was not going to leave myself liable, so when he refused the second time I took the matter up with the general manager.

DENIES SHE SMOKES.

"That made the office manager see red and he came to me and said, 'You are discharged.'

"I replied, 'No, I'm not. I resigned a half hour ago.'

"He said that I had done nothing in the week I was there and that my services were unsatisfactory. So I just tore out these two pages of notes that I had made for my own personal information. They were not the property of the company and I deny their right to them.

"I don't smoke cigarettes. I understand it was said that I smoked in the office. I didn't and I can easily explain the causes leading up to the belief.

"One afternoon the office manager was out and several of the salesmen were in at the time. They stood near my desk several times during the afternoon and dropped their ashes and cigarette butts in the ash tray on my desk."

350 ABANDONED CATS CARED FOR

Announcement was made today that during the past few weeks the Animal Rescue League at No. 51 Carver street, Beath End, has been taking care of about 350 cats and kittens, many probably deserted by their owners during the Summer home moves. Over thirty dogs are on hand, which anyone may have who is able to assure proper care. A unique feature of the work is rearing for many pigeons run down by autos and auto trucks. In connection with the South End work, the "Home of Rest" for horses is open at Dedham, giving free board for four to six weeks of vacation without expense to their owners.

ACCUSED EX-CHIEF TO FIGHT CHARGES

Methuen, June 30.—Harry Nimmo, ex-chief of the Methuen police department, was released by Abelie Marchand to be implicated in the Wolfendale case in which it is charged that the Methuen Waffenbelds had received $400 from Marchand for "protection", retained counsel to attend to his interests. The former police chief has refused to talk. The arrest into the allegations is being ably pursued by Chief John W. Beaumont.

FALL RIVER MAN IS ARRESTED HERE

Inspectors Claflin and Alexander, on a warrant, arrested Edward W. Talbot of Blackstone street, Fall River, charged with having had entered into the home of Mrs. Blanche Barclay of No. 49 Maitland street, New Bedford, and the larceny of $155 in cash and an express check valued at $35. Talbot was taken back to Fall River by Chief Inspector Walter Almond.

House Adopts Borah Disarmament Plan

By Universal Service.

Washington, June 30.—The House adopted the Borah disarmament amendment to the naval appropriation bill.

Under its terms the President is requested to invite Great Britain and Japan to send representatives to a conference with representatives of the United States to discuss a practical plan for limiting naval armament.

DISLOYAL WIFE BRANDS HERSELF

Husband Who Directed Use of Red Hot Can Opener Has Sentence Suspended

New York, June 30.—Revival of the custom of branding a disloyal wife was aired in court here when a pretty, blonde haired Polish woman, Vera Kuynoski, twenty-one years old, exhibited a three-inch brand on her chest and asked, "Is this right, judge?"

Both, she said, she had inflicted on herself with the cross as proof that she would never again be untrue to her husband, to whom she had confessed being over-friendly with another man.

With her husband looking on and giving directions, she had heated a can opener. Her eight-months-old baby and two-year-old son were in the room.

As she slashed her chest the pain was so severe that she pleaded with her husband to let her put the brand on the arm instead. She finally fainted.

Kuynoski said he was not in the same room, but was sleeping in an adjoining room while his wife did the branding.

The husband's sentence was suspended by the court after the couple had "made up" amid tearful kisses.

NIGHT CAR SERVICE TO ADAMS SQUARE

General Manager Edward Dana of the Elevated announces that beginning tomorrow a night car service will be established between Sullivan street station and Adams square, via Fellsway and Main street, Charlestown. Cars will leave Salem street station at 1:00, 2:00 and 3:00 a. m., and will leave Adams square at 1:30, 2:30 and 3:30 a. m.

The Broadway square-Maplewood night car now operating to Bell square will be run to Sullivan square, when connection can be made with cars for Adams square. Passengers may take Malden car leaving Adams square at 1:45, 2:45, 3:45 and 4:45 a. m., which will connect at Sullivan square with Maplewood car.

EXPECT WAGE CUT AT TORPEDO PLANT

Newport, R. I., June 30.—Rumor is current that by the last of the week there will be a big cut in forces, and perhaps in wages, at the Naval Torpedo Station. The failure of Congress to pass the naval appropriation bill is one cause for the uncertainty, and another is the fact that as yet the Labor Board has not rendered its decision as to pay for the various ratings for the next six months.

JUNE WEDDINGS BREAK RECORD

More Than 1,000 Couples Married This Month in Boston, Average Age Higher

Love laughs at locksmiths. Also at profiteering inadiords.

Such a thing as a shortage of homes or the ever-soaring rent of the "two rooms with" is not affecting Boston couples from jumping into the sea of matrimony, according to ity Registrar WcGleCanan.

The merry marriage month of June this year takes a record for weddings in Boston. Up to today more than 1,000 couples have been wedded.

Registrar McGlennan is puzzled as to why so many couples pick June. Incidentally, he says, the average age of the licenses seekers is increasing each year.

Moreover, he declares, there are more and more marriages in which the bride is considerably older than the groom.

Love Rivals Heal Breac With "Kiss by Wire"

Charlotte Johnson (at left), and Peggy Hopkins Joyce, upon both of whom J. Stanley Joyce has bestowed his affections. Charlotte, according to Peggy Joyce's lawyer, is to take the stand at coming divorce trial and "tell all she knows" about Joyce, in aid of his wife.

Bosh! Cries Health Official of Theory That Eye Tells Physical Condition

Tell whether she's bathed or not—by iriology?

"Bosh and tommyrot," says Dr. John A. Ceconi, Acting Health Commissioner.

Tell if she's had her little appendix removed, just by looking into the iris of her eyes?

"Oh what stuff!" retorts the learned doctor, "look at the scar, rather, and tell."

Pass upon whether she's in love with you or the other fellow by the dilation of her iris?

"Well, ah—um—maybe you can tell about her heart—just a little bit, by the set of those great orbs of hers. But, otherwise, 'iriology' is the wildest mid-Summer madness, and the doctor who thinks he's going to pass on the future prospects and ancient history of his patients, just by looking into their eyes, is all off, brethren, all off!"

By HAZEL CANNING.

Which pronunciamento was set forth by Dr. John A. Ceconi, acting deputy health commissioner of Boston.

It was passed, with respect to certain statements, reported from a meeting of the Allied Medical Association of America, now in session at Atlantic City.

"It is possible to tell whether a girl takes cold baths, just by looking into her eyes," Dr. W. A. Hanor of Corning, N. Y., told the doctors. "By her eyes you can tell whether she has had her wrinkles or her appendix removed, and whether she's in love.

SEEING THINGS DOUBLE.

So expounds Dr. Hanor. Dr. Ceconi disagrees, however.

"I'm talking merely as a private physician," he explained. "The subject's far too frivolous for the city health department. Let me say that I think these learned gentlemen, down at Atlantic City, are seeing things double.

"What they heard about brown eyes being the result of impurities in the blood, and blue eyes being clean eyes, were pure fairy tales.

"Shades of concentrated essence of fiddlesee! Did ever anyone hear the like before? I could point out to you a small army of brown eyed persons, regular goliaths in strength. I could point out to you a similar small army of blue eyed persons whose blood was full of impurities.

INDEX OF RACE ONLY.

"Color's no index, save of race. We expect persons of Latin races to be dark eyed; persons of Scandinavian races, of Saxon races, to incline to blue eyes; even then, however, our expectations are sometimes disappointed.

"As to diseases—yes, we certainly can tell whether a patient suffers from certain diseases by looking into his eyes.

"Puffy lids, red spots, may sometimes mean kidney disturbances. Dilated pupils may mean intense suffering.

CASE FOR LAYMAN.

"There's one interesting condition, shown by the eyes, which the layman can diagnose better than the doctor.

"When the eyes of the Only Girl grow darkest blue or brown, and her irises are dilated, though not with pain, and she looks at you through drooping lashes—why then—is the doctor—her eyes are undergoing a 'reflex action.'

"But when the Man in the Case sees those eyes, and understands, he says to himself, or out loud: 'Bless my heart, at last a spark! That girl's in love with me.'"

ALIENIST VIEWS MRS. KABER

Her Lawyers, Who Will Plead Insanity, Declare Doctor's Report Satisfactory

Cleveland, June 30.—Miss Catherine Eva Kaber, charged with poisoning her wealthy publisher husband and then having him stabbed to death by an assassin, was examined here by Dr. G. A. Hyde, alienist, and the result was declared satisfactory by her lawyers, who will plead temporary insanity. Her trial is to be resumed this afternoon.

Eight tentative jurors—four men and four women—had been selected before the court adjourned yesterday in memory of the death of Justice Foran, and indications were that a full jury will not be selected until after the Fourth, so rapidly was the present venire being exhausted.

Dr. Hyde, who examined the woman called a "friend in human form" by the prosecution, but who charges her dead husband was the "fiend, a degenerate in body and mind," who sapped her life and drove her crazy, was formerly of the Newburgh State Hospital for the Insane, and now is at Massillon. Another famous alienist from New York will testify at the trial.

NAVY YARD CALLS FOR BETTER WORK

Better work or no jobs is the edict sent to the mechanics of the Charlestown Navy Yard by the officials there. A fair day's work for a fair day's pay and a reduction of the overhead charges are necessary if war ships are to be sent to the yard for repairs, says the notice. The authorities are opposed to the helper system at the yard.

HARDING WRITES TO BABIES

President Indorses Campaign for Their North Shore Hospital

Salem, June 30.—The following letter from President Harding, written in reply to a letter from the babies of the North Shore Babies' Hospital, speaking through David Mason Little, president of the hospital association, was received here:

"Please say to the babies of the North Shore Babies' Hospital that I am greatly interested in their letter which you were good enough to transcribe and forward to me, and that I hope the effort in their behalf will be completely successful.

"They are wise babies to realize how important they are to the country and how important their own health is to both them and their nation.

"For both babies and the elders who are carrying on this excellent work for them I want to express my earnest good wishes."

The Hospital Association has raised $47,205 of the $250,000 necessary to defray the expenses of making the hospital an all-year-round institution as planned.

REFORMER ATTACKS BOUT AND KU KLUX

Washington, June 30.—The new Ku Klux Klan and the Dempsey-Carpentier fight are the latest to be put in the "all wrong list" of Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, undisputed blue law champion of America.

Dr. Crafts says the members of the Ku Klux Klan are hypocrites, and that the international combat of Jersey City Saturday is not a fight, but a fraud.

Chicago, June 30.—A "kiss by wire" has healed the old time breach between pretty Peggy Joyce and her former rival, Charlotte Johnson, who admits that she was once "the other woman" in the life of J. Stanley Joyce, multimillionaire lumber man, now suing Peggy for divorce.

Attorney Weymouth Kirkland, counsel for Peggy, is authority for the statement that Charlotte is going to aid her one time rival. She will take the stand at the coming trial and "tell all she knows," said the lawyer.

Telegram from Charlotte telling Peggy of her "love" and another from Peggy returning it, sealed the compact, declared the attorney.

Charlotte has gone back to Grand Rapids, Mich., with her husband, who is loyal enough to stand by her in her revenge upon the millionaire who, she says, "cast her off like a toy he was tired of."

'HOMELY' GIRL TRIES TO DIE

Pretty Maids Got Her Jobs, One Stole Her Sweetheart, So Miss Hicks Seeks Death

Baltimore, June 30.—Pretty girls were given the jobs she wanted and a pretty girl stole her sweetheart, so Virginia Hicks, freckled and red haired, swallowed bichloride of mercury in the hope that she might escape from a world where to be "plain meant to be shunned and disdained."

She is getting well against her own will, in the hospital here she said.

"Men only look for beauty. I never want to see one again. I want to die. The only man I ever let see is dead."

Where she comes from and who her betrayer was she will not say. "I loved him," she cried out suddenly. "I suppose I still love him. But I want to hate him. I'm homely and I should have realized it before. The world, this world at least, is no place for a homely girl."

The tale of her experiences here is pathetic. She sought work everywhere. Stenographers were in demand—if they were pretty. Cashiers were needed—but they had to be pretty. She applied for a job in one place and was told that they were "filled up" but she saw a pretty girl follow her in and get a job.

In her rambling she met him—the unidentified man. He professed to fall in love at first sight.

"I did everything he asked me," she told the police, "and he did treat me well. We went to dances. One night on the dance floor he saw one of those baby snit faces. She had pretty clothes, too. He made a date with her and I became angry. We had an awful quarrel. He left later in the night. It was the pretty face that lured him."

WAS REGULAR "HE" SEPTEMBER MORN

Chicago, June 30.—Those who saw him described him as a "regular 'He' September Morn." Down a fashionable street toward the beach he made his way, all unconscious of the attention he was attracting. He had a bathing suit, but it was swinging over his arm.

Arthur B. Farwell, president of the Chicago Law and Order League, told the police about it.

"He didn't seem to mind people looking at him at all," said Mr. Farwell. "A woman finally stopped him and he had him to put on his bathing suit. He was about six years old."

"Oh," exclaimed the policeman.

MANCHESTER GIRL WEDS MINISTER

Manchester, N. H., June 30.—Miss Evelyn A. Jenkins, daughter of Mr and Mrs. William Jenkins of No. 282 Hanover street and Rev. Elwin T. Palmer of Council Bluffs, Ia., were married at the home of the bride by Rev Elmer D. Palmer of Evanston, Ill., a twin brother of the groom. The bride is a graduate of Manchester High School and prominent in musical circles. She has for some time been a member of the choir at the Universalist Church. The groom and his brother are graduates of Pinkerton Academy in Derry and of Boston University of the class of 1916.

MEN OUTNUMBER WOMEN IN CHURCH

More men are joining the churches in the vicinity of Worcester than women, according to reports the churches submitted to Worcester Central Association of churches. Of the 168 added to one church in a year, 113 were men and seventy women.

In 19 churches in the Worcester suburban churches of the Congregational denomination 61 per cent. of per cent. and city churches 17 per cent.

FIREMEN BATTLE BASEMENT BLAZE

1 Boston firemen were given a stubborn fight in the basement of a cement building at Nos. 240-242 Tremont street today.

The fire, said to have been caused by a negligent smoker, caused damage estimated at $800.

The building is owned by the Wilbur Theatre Corporation and occupied by the Walton Lunch and the bowling alleys of Bernard Sonin.

RETIRED IMPORTER DIES AT ROXBURY

James C. Haynes, seventy-six years old, a retired importer of woolens, is dead at his home in the Hotel Warren, Roxbury.

Haynes was born in England and came to this country when eight years old. He is survived by three sisters.

AIDS NEEDHAM IN ANNUAL FIELD DAY

Former Congressman Carter opened his thirty-five-acre estate at Needham Heights to members of the Needham Board of Trade and their friends at the annual outing of that body.

About three hundred were present and baseball and other sports played, one of them between teams made up of women.

WOMAN FAINTS IN SUBWAY TRAIN

Mrs. Josephine Whitlock, forty-two years old, of No. 177 River street, Cambridge, fainted suddenly after having boarded the Cambridge train at the Chauncey street subway early today. She was seen to collapse suddenly and slide from the seat to the floor, and was treated at the Haymarket Relief Station.

FALL RIVER STRIKE OF MASONS ENDS

Fall River, June 30.—The strike of the bricklayers, plasterers and masons has been settled after having lasted for several weeks. The men returned to work for nine-five cents an hour. It is predicted that this decision will affect the strike of carpenters which is still on.

Mexican Foreign Coin Ban Hits U. S. Firms

By Universal Service.

Washington, June 30.—Mexico has banned the circulation of all foreign money except gold coin, according to a dispatch from United States Consul C. E. Dawson to the Department of Commerce.

American coinage has been widely used in the past, and its withdrawal is expected to result in many business hardships, Dawson added.

LAWYER SAW QUITT SHOT

Dennett Heard Policeman Say "My God, I Didn't Mean To Shoot Him"

Attorney Guy L. Dennett, witness for the defence, at the trial of Patrolman Bernard Steinhauser, charged with second degree murder of Louis Quitt of Medford on April 30 last while arresting his victim as a bootlegger, was to resume his testimony in the Suffolk County Superior Court today.

At yesterday's session Dennett told of seeing policeman and prisoner in a heated conversation at Court street and Court square, the policeman drawing a revolver, a clinch between the two men and the two shots that followed.

He described Quitt throwing up his hands and staggering, exchange of violent language and Steinhauser's exclamation "My God, I didn't mean to shoot him." All the while, he said, the policeman held a package under his arm.

NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSE INSPECTED

Over one hundred New Church delegates to the 100th annual convention of that denomination took an automobile ride to the Lynn Neighborhood House, which was started some time ago, to show the genuineness of the words "neighbor" and "friend."

These delegates were welcomed by Mrs. Grace W. Gregg, at the house, No. 82 Neptune street, Lynn.

VERMONT NATIONAL GUARD INSPECTED

Rutland, Vt., June 30. — Service Company, National Guard Infantry, was inspected by Federal Recognition by Colonel E. R. Gibson. A Company of infantry, N. G., will be inspected this evening by the same colonel at Montpelier.

BAY STATE MAN NAMED CONSUL

Washington, June 30.—President Harding has sent the following nomination to the Senate:

To be consul of class five—Joseph W. Ballantine of Massachusetts, now Japanese secretary of the embassy of the United States to Japan.

4-LEGGED CHICKEN IS MALDEN MARVEL

W. H. Horwood of No. 34 Dana street, Malden, reports the hatching of a chicken with four legs, three of the legs being joined together. All are perfectly formed.

ACCUSED OF THEFT OF LIBERTY BONDS

Harold A. Clay, thirty-eight years old, of Henshaw terrace, West Roxbury, was arrested by Inspectors Sullivan and McCarthy charged with the larceny on February 4, 1920, of two Liberty Bonds valued at $2,000, the property of the Boston Penny Savings Bank.

Engineers Return

The 101st Engineers, 600 strong, returned to Boston after completing a tour of duty at Camp Devens. The Engineers is the 1st regimental unit to complete a Summer tour since 1915.

WOMAN HOLDS UP $35,000 NOTE

Changes Mind After Giving Hub Dentist $35,000 Check; Court Issues Injunction

Peculiar circumstances surround an injunction issued yesterday by Judge Sanderson of the Superior Court, enjoining Dr. Herbert E. Dennett, seventy-eight-year-old dentist, from withdrawing from the First National Bank a note for $35,000, given him by Miss Grace E. C. Holbrook, an aged resident of Dorchester, Vt.

Dr. Dennett, who was divorced from his wife several years ago, is the father of seven children. He is a dentist and two years ago came into prominence when he inherited almost the entire estate of Mrs. Adelaide Amelia Hewett Beyerlich to establish "A Golden Rule Foundation."

WANTED TO SAVE RACE.

This "foundation," he explained at the time, would save the human race from becoming extinct through interference with nature.

In her petition Miss Holbrook declares that she gave Dr. Dennett her note for $35,000 because "she had always had confidence in his judgment." It was to be used by him, she stated, to buy real estate for himself.

The petition also gives the information that Dr. Dennett at the time gave the Vermont woman his note for $2,500, of which $1,000 was commission for obtaining for him the loan of $35,000.

BANK IS ENJOINED.

Dr Dennett took the note to the First National Bank for discount, but before it was cashed Miss Holbrook notified the bank to hold off the payment. The bank is also enjoined by Judge Sanderson from delivering the questioned note to the doctor.

Dr. Dennett startled Boston after telling of his intention to establish the "Golden Rule Foundation," by declaring that "there is no such a thing as illegitimate children," and that "legalized Mormonism is better than birth control."

Mrs. Beyerlich, whose fortune he inherited, cut off her three children with a dollar each.

POLICEMAN HURT CHASING FUGITIVES

Pride goeth before destruction. John Furie, thirty year-old special policeman at a Washington street "movie," tok pride in the fact that he permitted no disorders at his theatre. Two young men insulted women patrons, and Furie gave chase. Someone carelessly left a log in his path, and John went down like the fall of Babylon, skidding across the sidewalk on his chin. He sustained an inclosed wound of the jaw and contusions of the knees. The two men escaped.

Everybody Will Have Chance to Enter $6,000 Song Title Test on Even Footing

It probably will be difficult for the next few days to attract the attention of readers to the $6,000 Songs of the World Title Test, but this may be YOUR opportunity to annex $1,000 in cold cash for comparatively little effort.

The $300,000 Jack Dempsey will get for an hour's work on Saturday, and the $200,000 the blonde M. Carpentier will tuck away for accompanying him, will not do us any good.

Here, on the other hand, is Opportunity banging at the door like all possessed.

Six thousand dollars, for writing titles!

YOU MAY ENTER TODAY.

The Songs of the World Test is one-third completed. On this page is Picture No. 20. You may enter today on equal terms will all who have been in from the beginning. True, we cannot supply back numbers of the Boston American, but we can—and will—have ONE printing of all the Back Pictures. That re-print is scheduled for some day next week. Let the newsdealer know you will want it.

The plan of the Test is simplicity itself. Its execution by the participant is not so simple a matter. Here is a Test of your skill and ingenuity, a test of your general knowledge, your willingness to dig for certain necessary information.

Each of the sixty Test Pictures is printed without its title. Participants in the Test are expected to supply these missing titles. In every case the title is the title of a song.

It is not a guessing contest. The Correct Titles already have been selected. The Test Pictures have been drawn for the purpose of illustrating these sixty Titles FOR TEST PURPOSES.

FOR TEST PURPOSES.

Keep the last three words in mind. "For Test purposes." The artist is not trying to make it easy for you. He has not the slightest intention to help ten, twenty, one hundred, one thousand or any other number of participants send in sixty Correct Titles apiece. Far be it from us! He will be better pleased if the largest number of Correct Titles is forty, or less. Whatever it may be, the Boston American will pay $20 awards IN CASH to those who send in the largest numbers of Correct Titles. There will be two awards of $1,000 each. The full List of Awards is as follows:

ONE FIRST AWARD	$1,000
ONE SECOND AWARD	1,000
ONE THIRD AWARD	750
ONE FOURTH AWARD	500
ONE FIFTH AWARD	400
ONE SIXTH AWARD	300
ONE SEVENTH AWARD	200
ONE EIGHTH AWARD	150
ONE NINTH AWARD	100
ONE TENTH AWARD	50
200 AWARDS OF $10 EACH	1,000
110 AWARDS OF $5 EACH	550
TOTALS	$6,000

CORRECT TITLE DAILY.

The Test consists of (1) the Test Picture and (2) the List of Titles. Both are important.

In the List of Titles is the CORRECT Title.

Whether or not you are able to find it, the Correct Title is in the List of Titles.

This is true every day.

The List of Titles may be changed without notice. On the other hand, a List of Titles might stand unchanged for ten days. Before the Test is concluded there may be a new List of Titles every day.

But this is true, whether the List of Titles lasts for one day or one week, the List of Titles will contain the Correct Title of the Test Picture printed on the same day. The Test Editor again suggests the wisdom of numbering the List of Titles every day. Mark today's List of Titles with the number "20." You may want to turn back to it some day in connection with Picture No. 29.

READ THE RULES.

Every participant in the Test should read the Rules of the Test. Know what you are undertaking. Know exactly what we purpose to do. Those who understand the Test may find it difficult to believe, but it is a fact that, with the Test one-third completed, readers still send these Test Pictures to the Test Editor every day.

The Test Editor is compelled to confess again that he is unable to fill orders for back numbers of the paper. We do not have them here. This office is not in competition with newsdealers. Make arrangements with the dealer to save a copy of the Boston American which next week will carry all the Back Pictures. That re-printing will supply the pictures which you have lost, mislaid or missed. After that, you must get the paper regularly. There will be but ONE printing of Back Pictures.

PLAN REUNION OF AMBULANCE CORPS

A reunion and banquet Saturday evening at the Quincy House is planned by veterans of the 101st Ambulance Company, 26th Division, as one of the features of the Y. D. celebration.

This is to be the first reunion of the veterans since their return from France, and Colonel T. W. Ely, Major D. J. Mains, Captain Joseph Dunn and Captain Peter McKenna will be guests of honor.

SENATE RETURNS COAL RATE BILL

Washington, June 30.—The Senate by a vote of thirty-eight to twenty-eight committed the Frelinghuysen seasonal coal rate bill to the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee. The bill provides for the establishment of lower freight rates on coal during the Summer months to promote buying.

BLAME STRIKE FOR HIGHER GAS RATES

Worcester, June 30.—The Worcester Gas Light Co. will soon explain to Mayor Peter F. Sullivan why the price of Worcester gas is $1.65, while that of Springfield is but $1.35.

It is understood the gas company's statement will claim that a recent strike in Worcester is partly responsible.

SONG TITLE RULES; READ 'EM

Participants Cannot Afford to Slight Them With Big Award at Stake

The Boston American Songs of the World Title Test is a test of skill and judgment open to all readers of the Boston American, irrespective of age, living in any city or town in New England or Canada.

Two hundred and twenty cash awards will be given for the most correct lists of titles submitted by the largest percentage of correct titles to the sixty pictures to be published on each day consecutively (Sundays excepted) in the Boston American.

All employes of the Boston American and their families are absolutely barred from participating in the awards.

The Test will consist of 60 pictures, each representing the title of a well-known song, to be printed one each day in the Boston American, the first picture on Tuesday, June 28.

Participation in any other contest which the newspaper may, wholly or in part, conduct or which may be run by the Boston American will not entitle any one to enter this Test.

Every participant will be allowed to submit one list of titles to the sixty pictures and only ONE TITLE to each picture, and no participant shall be entitled to more than one award and not more than one award shall be given to any one family.

Each and every title submitted by a party to the Test must be in the precise form furnished by the Boston American, or no award will be made. The form of itself, accompanied either by the coupon printed for the Boston American or by a box on newsprint paper, and must have the name and address of the participant written on it.

Do not send your titles in "list" form, i. e., do not write them all under one another on a piece of paper.

In case there are not complete sets of correct titles, awards will be given to the person having the largest number of correct titles, and in case of a tie awards will be made on the basis of time, judged by postmarks and receipts at the office.

In case of a tie awards will be made on the basis of time, judged by postmarks and receipts at the office.

In case of a tie awards will be made on the basis of time, judged by postmarks and receipts at the office.

But if the tie cannot be decided in that way the first award in each instance will be awarded.

In no case, under any circumstances should participants write to the Boston American at No. 8 Summer street, Boston 9, Mass., either by mail or in person, with regard to the Songs of the World Title Test. All questions, answers, corrections or communications of any nature addressed as follows: "Song Editor, No. 8 Summer street, Boston 9, Mass.; P. O. Box 295" and each envelope or package must bear the name and address of the sender legibly written or printed in the upper left corner.

Any and all persons in the City will contribute written or printed matter, it mailed, it is absolutely necessary that the packages be fully prepaid at postal rates, as mail of this character belongs to the classification of third matter. The Boston American does not pay postage due on any such matter, and any sum of which charges for postage delivered are not fully prepaid.

There will be no title or answer book to buy. Lists of Song Titles will be printed in the Boston American, and the Test Pictures will be published from day to day as the test progresses.

Participants who desire further information should address the Song Editor, care Song Title Editor, No. 8 Summer street, Boston 9, Mass., specifying what information is desired. Every necessary question will be answered in the columns of the paper, and the Song Editor will not be responsible for any letters received, nor for such a reply or that may cause Main Rule or will it impose.

The Boston American reserves the right to make any change in the rules of the Test, or withdraw the Test at any time, without notice, including the Test, and the decision of the Song Editor or the Test Editor on any question which may arise will be absolutely final. The entry of any participant is a complete acceptance of all conditions and regulations now made or to be made.

SHAKEUP GIVEN DRY FORCES

Sweeping Reorganization to Include the Creation of "Flying Squadrons"

Washington, June 30.—Sweeping reorganization of the country's dry forces was announced today by Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes.

Among the important changes to be made tomorrow, he stated, would be the establishment of separate organizations in each State and creation of "flying squadrons" to deal with interstate violations and to act as reinforcements in coping immediately with any emergency.

These latter mobile groups, which will act under the direction of the Federal prohibition commissioner, are expected by him to aid greatly in enforcement, for they will be in competition with State groups. Thus, he said, they "will have a wholesome effect in stimulating enforcement activity."

As a result of the changes, Major Haynes expects several million dollars will be saved the government with the abolition of supervising Federal prohibition agents, whose places will be taken by State directors, a saving of $180,000 in salaries alone is estimated.

There will be re-location of State directors' offices, it was stated, with cities chosen which will be the most accessible to all points in the State.

LONDON CLUB GOES TO POINT SHIRLEY

Two hundred members of the London Club and their wives and women friends celebrated their annual outing at the Point Shirley Club house in commemoration of the visits paid to London by the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company in 1896 and 1912. Captain F. H. Appleton, who commanded the company in 1912, was chosen president; Sergeant Fred Walker, vice-president, and Captain Clarence J. McKenzie, secretary.

BARES EVILS IN WAR HOSPITALS

Washington, June 30. — Congress has received evidence of conditions in the contract hospitals of the War Risk Bureau "that almost makes the heart sick," Senator Sutherland of West Virginia told the National Disabled Soldiers' League in convention here.

"Not all the charges are founded on fact," he said, "but the American people are determined that if there is fault in these institutions it shall be remedied." He promised that every official "whose heart is not in his work shall be removed and replaced by a man who is fitted for the place."

DEATH TOLL OF AUTOS RISES

Registrar Goodwin Blames "Booze" as Principal Cause of 1921 Increase

More people were killed in auto accidents the first five months of this year than in any similar period in the State's history.

"Booze," said State Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin, "was the principal cause of it."

An interesting fact which lends corroboration to Mr. Goodwin's positive statement is that although more people were killed, there were fewer accidents in which people were injured.

60 MORE DEATHS.

Mr Goodwin's records of accidents are kept in two classes, the fatal and injured. His records today showed:

	1920		1921
	K'd	Inj'd	K'd	Inj'd
January	14	1,151	28	553
February	4	216	18	394
March	14	777	39	814
April	50	1,925	34	852
May	50	2,010	43	983
Totals	112	6,079	162	3,358

"During the same months last year," said Mr. Goodwin, "only 168 drivers were convicted of operating while under the influence of liquor, but this year the number has increased to 483. Convictions for reckless operating have increased from 93 to 159 and that, too, reflects the use of liquor.

"There have been fewer injuries of minor accidents, because of the new and rigorous examinations which we require the applicants for licenses to undergo. There have been more fatal accidents because of those. We are doing our part to overcome the death-wave. The enforcement officers and the courts can do a great deal of the balance that is needed to be done."

LATEST PUNISHMENTS.

The auto licenses of the following were today revoked or suspended:

REVOKED.

JOHN F. CRONIN, No. 32 Welsh street, Malden. Operating while under the influence of liquor.

HENRY J. ELL, of Peabody. Operating recklessly.

JOHN S. FORSYTH, No. 23 Oak street, Plymouth. Operating while under the influence of liquor.

GEORGE O. GREENWOOD, of Westport. Operating while under the influence of liquor, from which judgment he appealed.

SUSPENDED.

JOHN SHEEHAN, No. 2 Jackson avenue, Everett. Not a proper person to operate.

EUGENE A. FAIRBANKS, of West Millbury. Not a proper person to operate.

ISADORE J. EILENBERG, No. 165 Ruthven street, Boston. Operated in an improper manner.

NASHUA MAN IS KILLED IN CRASH

Farmer Is Hurled to Death When Train Hits Truck on Crossing

Nashua, N. H., June 30.—Charles K. Sailer, forman of the Riverside farm, was struck and instantly killed by an incoming train at the Broad street crossing of the Keene branch of the Boston & Maine Railroad.

Sailer was returning to the farm after dinner in an automobile truck when the engine hit the machine squarely. He was thrown head first against a fence, which runs at right angles with the track.

The truck was completely demolished, some parts being thrown as far as 150 feet. Even the spark plugs were smashed.

Sailer stopped just before reaching the crossing to let John E. Donnelley, a fifteen-year-old boy who had been riding with him, out of the truck.

Sailer, who was thirty-four years old, is survived by his widow and three children, the oldest ten and the youngest three.

TWO ACCUSED OF HORSE CRUELTY

James O'Brien and John Mahoney faced trial before Judge Creed in Municipal Court on a charge of cruelty to horses brought by an official of the M. S. P. C. A. According to the official the men were unnecessarily cruel in inserting metal tags in the ears of horses at the American Express stables. He said they punctured the horses' ears with perforating pliers. The case was continued.

FIGHT ILLITERACY OF ALIENS IN U. S.

Worcester, June 30.—Leaders in immigrant education from all parts of Massachusetts met in the aldermanic chamber in the City Hall here today to complete plans for a State-wide educational drive in September.

Proponents of the plan seek to wipe out illiteracy in Massachusetts and remove the suspicion and animosity with which immigrants regard native-born Americans.

MAN IN RAIN HELD FOR OBSERVATION

At the height of the tremendous downpour, when the heavens went and pedestrians scuttled for shelter, Frank S. Warner, seventy-nine years old, who claims 0N, 241 West Twenty-fourth street, New York, as his dwelling place, was discovered at Dorchester avenue and Eliot street, communing with the stars. He was taken to the City Hospital and held for observation.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS CALL ON HARDING

Washington, June 30.—Several members of the Association of Railway Executives called at the White House and conferred with President Harding concerning certain phases of the transportation situation. It is understood that the question of funding the $700,000,000 indebtedness of the railroads for capital expenditures made by the government during the period of federal control was discussed.

$16,000 STOCK SWINDLE BARED

Retired Newport Merchant, Fleeced by Investment Fakirs, Appeals to Police

Newport, R. I., June 30.—Archibald Ausher, retired haberdasher, of No. 245 West Forty-sixth street, New York, who lost $16,000 to the Renfrew Park confidence men, has placed all the facts regarding the swindle in the hands of the police.

Chief Tobin announced today that, although the men, who are said to have fleeced prominent persons of thousands of dollars, escaped, the police have secured a certain amount of information concerning them. It was also learned, he stated, that they used an automobile which was hired from a local man, and which bore a license number.

Lusher told the police he met one of the confidence men in a New York broker's office six months ago. This man introduced Lusher to a friend alleged to work in the office of J. P. Morgan. The trio went to Newport, where, at the Renfrew Park cottage they started playing the market on tips given by the fake Morgan employe.

The sum of $400,000 was cleaned up, but the "manager" of the establishment refused to pay the money until the men gave evidence of their financial standing. On June 12 Lusher said he returned with $16,000, but his two fellow stock gamblers became involved in an altercation. It was "discovered" that one of them had made a mistake, with the result that their winnings were wiped out.

It was eventually agreed that Lusher's $16,000 should be returned to him, and an agreement to that effect was drawn up. Lusher was to meet the two men in Philadelphia, but they failed to appear. Later they telegraphed him to join them in Milwaukee, and, when they again failed to show up the victim notified the New York authorities. They in turn suggested that he take the matter up with the local police.

TRAFFIC SQUAD FOR MANCHESTER, N. H.

Manchester, N. H., June 30.—Twelve additional men were added to the police force here by the police commissioners for the purpose of organizing a traffic squad. Sergeant William F. Foye, who has had twenty-one years in the department and was Manchester's first traffic officer, has been assigned to command the traffic squad. Patrolman Michael J. Whalen was promoted to sergeant and will take the place made vacant by the assignment of Sergeant Foye.

REHEARSING FOR PILGRIM SHOW

Professor Baker Says Good Progress Is Being Made on Big Plymouth Pageant

Plymouth, June 30.—Dress rehearsals for the great pageant, "The Pilgrim Spirit," which is to have its first performance here July 12, will start next week, according to an announcement made by Professor George P. Baker, of Harvard, who is directing the pageant.

Professor Baker has tentatively set July 7 as the date for the first dress rehearsal.

Special attention has been paid for a week past, Professor Baker said, to rehearsing the Pilgrim groups, particularly in the Plymouth scenes, and with these groups astonishing progress has been made.

Rapid progress is also being made, he said, with the Dutch and Indian dances, which will figure largely in the production, and which are under the direction of Miss Virginia Tanner.

Two-thirds of the costumes needed for the 1,400 persons in the cast, are now complete, according to Daphne Carr, who is in charge of the workroom in which the costumes are being made by Plymouth women who have volunteered their services.

STEERAGE RATE UP 5,000 P. C.

Swindling Schemes Worked on Immigrants Boost Cost, Commissioner Says

Washington, June 30.—The cost of coming in the steerage as an immigrant from Europe to America has increased about 5,000 per cent. since the the days of sharp competition for immigrant trade.

Commissioner of Immigration Husband made this estimate, in deploring the fact that from the time an immigrant turns all his goods into money and starts on the long journey to America until he arrives, he is preyed upon by sharpers and thieves.

According to Mr. Husband, at one time competition between immigrant-carrying steamship lines brought the cost of passage down to $10. Now, counting delays in obtaining passports and visas, and accomodation on board vessels, the cost frequently is in excess of $500 per passenger.

In addition, the immigrant constantly is harassed by sharpers who promise for a money bribe to secure him a passport, a visa, a berth on shipboard, and other services that seldom are performed.

The United States Bureau of Immigration can do little to remedy these conditions, Mr. Husband said, as most of the immigrant-carrying lines are foreign-owned.

Rinso

For the Family Washing—Soaks clothes clean

DISSOLVE: For each tub of clothes thoroughly dissolve a half package of Rinso in two quarts of boiling water. (Where water is hard or clothes extra dirty, use more Rinso.)
POUR INTO TUB of lukewarm water—rich with Rinso solution until you get a good, rich, lasting, soapy suds even after the clothes have been put in.
Step No. 1
Step No. 2

Then let your clothes soak—and rinse without any hard rubbing—

Soak one hour—two hours—overnight—whatever time is convenient. These wonderful mild suds loosen every particle of dirt. Rinse, to remove the loosened dirt, till the water runs clear.★

Two easy steps save you hours of back-breaking rubbing

WITH this sensational new soap product you can save yourself hours of back-breaking rubbing on the washboard.

We all know it is possible to get the regular weekly wash clean with ordinary cake soap, but it is a terribly long, hard job. We know soaking the clothes has always meant less rubbing.

After years of experimenting, the great soap makers in the world have perfected in Rinso an entirely new soap product. Rinso is a perfect combination of pure, cleansing materials that loosen dirt from even the heaviest pieces of the weekly wash without injury to a single fabric. With it you do not have to rub anything but the most badly soiled spots such as neck bands and cuffs.

Don't rub your youth away. Get a package of Rinso today at your grocer's or department store. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

★WASHING MACHINE OWNERS get beautifully white clothes with Rinso. Follow the regular directions, adding a fresh Rinso solution before operating machine. The results are wonderful.

FINDS SPIRIT TALKS SANELY

Court's Ruling a Setback for Wanderer in Plea to Escape Hanging

Chicago, June 30.—The fact that a person believes he talks with the dead does not imply that he is insane. Such was the ruling made by Judge Joseph B. David here.

Instead of holding such persons crazy, the judge intimated, their opinions should be respected. For if that is an indication of insanity, he said, then Sir Oliver Lodge and A. Conan Doyle would be idiots.

His ruling was a setback for Carl Wanderer, whose sanity is being tested before Judge David.

Wanderer was sentenced to hang for killing his wife and a strange man he had hired to fake a holdup. Now his attorneys are seeking to prove him insane so he can escape the rope.

Witnesses told the judge that Wanderer imagines he communicates with his wife and mother.

The judge said that if Wanderer's attorneys wanted to prove him insane they would have to charge him with making claims that could be disproved.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles HAVE TO GO

Clogged up Kidney Deposits are Dissolved and the Toxins (Poisons) Completely Driven Out. Druggists Told to Guarantee it in Every Instance.

"Your very life," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys, so whatever you do don't neglect them. Dr. Carey's famous prescription No 277, known as Mandrinol, is best recommended for everything but we caution you strongly not to use it if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequent passing of water night and day, with smarting or irritation, brick dust sediment or highly colored urine, bloating irritation with loss of flesh, backache, rheumatism or any other symptom of Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Gravel, for kidney disease in the worst form may be stealing upon you.

Don't wait until tomorrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription if you have any of the symptoms given. Kidney and Bladder troubles don't wear away, they will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with unfailing certainty.

Never mind the failures of the past if you have hopes that you are subject to Kidney Disease, don't lose a single day, for Mandrinol can be obtained from Dr. Armstrong Co.'s Stores and every good druggist has been authorized to return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all those state they have received no benefit.—Advertisement.

SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Miss Ruth Thayer, daughter of Mrs. Bayard Thayer of No. 84 Beacon street, who has returned from abroad with her mother and sister, Mabel Thayer. The Thayers, who returned to this country last week, went directly to their Summer home in Lancaster. Miss Ruth Thayer is a prominent member of the Vincent Club. Photo by White.

By BETTY ALDEN.

The very decided flutter and stir which was created among the smart set by the marriage which transformed the daughter of Mrs. "Tom" Curtis into Princess Castagneto has not died down yet by any means. Nations and maidens alike are still busily discussing those "romantic details" of the event so dear to the feminine heart. Those details, of course, excite the chief interest. The gowns which the various guests and attendants wore, be sure nothing of the appearance of the bride herself. And everyone is busily speculating just where the Prince and Princess are. It is thought, of course, that they are sojourning in the Catskills, which reminds me of the rumor which has just reached me that the newly-wedded pair may sail for Europe in September. As Prince Michael is an exile from his native country, Russia, I suppose that he and his bride will have to be contented to visit the other less turbulent countries of the continent.

Although there has been anything but a dearth of weddings among the society folk of Boston, quite a number of the younger set have served at fashionable nuptials taking place in other states. At the marriage of Miss Nancy Campbell Moore to Archibald Campbell Denison, Mr. Richard Clapham of this city served as best man. This interesting wedding was solemnized in Poughkeepsie yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, and was attended by a number of people prominent in civic life, for Nancy comes of an old and distinguished New York family which has figured extensively in the early history of the State.

I hear that Mrs. William R. Castle of Boston and Washington, D. C., will spend the Summer at the Ocean side, Magnolia, and will occupy a suite of rooms in the Perkins cottage of the Oceanside group.

When the Misses Ida and Ellen Mason of Boston invited the public to view the beautiful gardens on their Newport, R. The various watering places along the Cape are as popular as ever among yachtioning society folk. Lieutenant and Mrs. James H. Hooper and their family of High street, Dedham, are now at their Summer home in Barnstable, where they will remain until after Labor Day.

Mrs. Stephen M. Weld has joined the Summer colony at Indian Head, Wareham. Mrs. Weld is well known as the mistress of Rockwell, her estate in Dedham. Mr. and Mrs. William C. Williams, also of Dedham, are Cotuit at Indian Head.

COUPLE TOLD TO THINK IT OVER

Manchester Judge Gives Pair Good Advice Instead of Divorce Decree

Manchester, N. H., June 30.—Judge Kivel, after lecturing a couple who had appeared before him in Superior Court here, continued their case and advised them to go home and think the matter over.

"A young man like you," the judge told the husband, "has no business to be staying out until 11 o'clock at night. He should be at home with his family, and if he does stay out it is because he is drinking and neglecting them. You young people should not be seeking a divorce; you should be living happily together."

The couple have two children and the woman appeared in court with a baby in her arms.

SAYS ACTRESSES LONG FOR HOME

Florence Lawrence, Film Star Bride, Tells Why She Decided to Marry

San Francisco, June 30.—Florence Lawrence, film star, whose wedding to Charles B. Woodring, auto salesman, on May 12, has just been announced, told today why she decided to marry.

According to Miss Lawrence's views the public in general has an archaic and utterly mistaken idea that the "artist" cannot travel in double harness. They frown upon the coupling of domesticity and a professional existence.

"To no woman," says Miss Lawrence, "is the idea of a home more appealing than to the actress, whose mode of living subjects her to so many changes of residence. No matter what her professional success, at the back of her heart is always the ambition to star in the domestic role."

The couple met in New York at the termination of the war, when Miss Lawrence was in retirement from public life because of an injury sustained while filming a fire scene. She recently returned to the motion picture world as a star.

INDIAN MEDICINE BUTTON PICKED UP

Manchester, N. H., June 30.—A piece of stone supposed to have belonged to a medicine man of the Indians, was picked up by Arthur W. Jones in Odell Park, Franklin, N. H. The stone is shaped like a button and is thought to have been a part of the medicine outfit of the Indians.

The section in the vicinity of the park was used as a camping ground by the Indians before the coming of the white man, and numerous relics, including arrows and spear heads and utensils, have been found in that section.

LAUNDRY COSTS ARE DEMANDED

Commissioner Hultman Asks for Figures in Justification of High Prices

The Special Commission on the Necessaries of Life has acted upon the many public complaints of the excessive price of laundry by calling upon 139 laundries in the State to furnish comparative costs and prices for 1920 and 1921 by July 11.

In its communication to the laundries the commission points out that a preliminary investigation and comparison of laundry prices in 1914, 1920 and 1921 make it appear that laundry prices have not reflected the reduction in coal, gasoline, soap and other elements that are figured in their costs.

It is further called to the laundries' attention that plants using modern labor and cost saving machinery charge more than hand labor firms. It also recalls that the laundries claimed to be public utilities during the war and were given preferential classification in coal distribution.

Commissioner Hultman will await the laundry statements before ordering a public hearing. In addition to complaints against prices charged for personal apparel, hotels and housewives are complaining that flat work prices have been increased some 200 per cent. during the past two years.

HUB MAN TAKES ARLINGTON BRIDE

Announcement is made by Arthur L. Bacon of No. 241 Mystic street, Arlington, of the marriage of his daughter, Miss Dorothy Bacon, to Herbert Shoemaker of Boston. The groom is connected with a Boston talking machine company and is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, class of 1918. Following an automobile wedding tour to Lake Winnipesaukee, and later in the White Mountains, Mr. and Mrs. Shoemaker will reside at No. 96 Pine street, Belmont.

World Soon to Know What Gorillas Talk About

Can gorillas think? Do gorillas talk? And if so, what about? These questions, which interest the layman and drive the scientist to despair, are in a fair way of being answered.

Professor Carl E. Akeley, who knows his Africa and its inhabitants as the true "Desmo" knows the North End, is going back to the Dark Continent to live among gorillas and find out.

No man living, scientist or layman, could face such a monumental task with such remarkable hopes of success.

FAMOUS BIG GAME HUNTER.

Akeley, well known in Boston, is a famous big game hunter, naturalist, author, and is associate mammalogist of the American Museum of Natural History.

He has been in Africa three times. He knows the ordinary habits of the hairy anthropoid apes which are the nearest approach to man better than any other human.

Best indication that he knows what he is about is his announcement that he will not seek to capture a gorilla alive.

That, says Akeley, is for showmen and heads of zoological expeditions. He knows all he wants to know about the physical structure of the giant apes of the Gaboon country.

What he wants to find out is what thoughts or instincts lie behind the low, heavily protected foreheads of the tribes of gorillas which range the African forests and whether the low, never-to-be-forgotten sounds they make are really part of a language.

TO ENLIGHTEN MEN.

Professor Akeley's party will be a small one. It will leave America August 1, prepared to stay about a year in the Gaboon country.

"When I return," he said, "men will know more than they do now about their first cousins, the apes."

The huge apes which he goes to study look almost as human as some of the lower examples of human life in Africa and the South Seas.

They can stand erect. They use their fore-paws or "hands" in fighting. They are the terror of the other beasts and primitive negro tribes for their uncanny instinct or intelligence.

When threatened they show a keen instinct for strategic warfare. They move in troops when in hostile country, among human beings.

What do they talk about? Will Professor Akeley tell us?

PORTSMOUTH MAYOR OUT FOR CONGRESS

Manchester, N. H., June 30.—Fernando W. Hartford, mayor of Portsmouth, has announced that he will be a candidate for Congress from the first New Hampshire district to succeed Congressman Sherman E. Burroughes of this city who has announced that he will not be a candidate at the expiration of his term in 1922. Mayor Hartford is publisher of the Portsmouth Herald, Chronicle and Gazette and is a former member of the city council and the State Legislature.

REARRESTED ON DEFAULT WARRANT

Edward F. Martel, thirty-five years old, of West Newton street, was arrested by Inspectors Pelton and McCauliffe on a default warrant. Martel was previously arrested charged with the larceny of merchandise from a downtown department store valued at $666, and had been summoned to appear in court yesterday.

POLICE SEEK GEMS STOLEN ON TRAINS

Boston police are making a thorough search of pawnshops in the hope of recovering some of the jewels taken by thieves from Mr. and Mrs. William H. Donaldson of New York while traveling from that city to Boston by Pullman. The reward offered for return of the gems is $4,000.

SEE RUIN IF WAR DEBT IS PAID

National Disaster if U. S. Insists on Collecting Overdue Loans, Administration Believes

Washington, June 30.—The administration is convinced that it probably would be "financially and economically disastrous" for the United States if it were to insist upon immediate payment of even part of the $11,000,000,000 long overdue this country from its associates in the World War.

This was disclosed after a conference between Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Senator Pearose, Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, following Mellon's appearance before the committee to urge that Congress give the administration blanket authority to handle the foreign loans.

The administration believes that there would be a grave risk of destroying the European market for American products by further impairing the value of foreign exchange and by the consequent disability of European nations to buy American products, essential to their rehabilitation, if they were forced to part with the comparatively little gold they have left.

LEXINGTON GIRL BRIDE OF VETERAN

Miss Hazel Agnes Nelson of Lexington was married to Walter Rydeard, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Rydeard of No. 295 Park street, Medford, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Nelson, at No. 46 Parker street, Lexington, by the Rev. C. C. MacDonald, pastor of the Congregational Church, Medford. Miss Esther Soderlund of Medford was the bridesmaid, and Robert Smith, also of Medford, was the best man. Mr. Rydeard is a veteran of the World War.

U. S. STARTS ON BUSINESS BASIS

Harding Sounds Economy Warning; Dawes Demands Bureaus Aid Him on Budget

Washington, June 30. — The first practical step toward putting the government on a basis of "business-like efficiency" and reducing taxes through the new budget was taken at the Cabinet when President Harding warned official Washington that the administration is pledged absolutely to economy and Director of the Budget Charles G. Dawes announced the details of the new budget which is to be rushed to workable completion within thirty days.

Members of the Cabinet, high ranking army and navy officers and the chiefs of every government bureau and their assistants present at the unusual meeting to the number of nearly 2,000 rose at its conclusion and pledged themselves to the cause of economy represented in the budget.

HARDING URGES CO-OPERATION.

Opening the meeting, the President said there is no menace in the world today like that of growing public indebtedness and mounting public expenditures and that he intended to correct the impression that the United States treasury is "inexhaustible."

"We want to reverse this," said the President. "The present Congress has provided for the first time in history the bureau of the budget. I want to bring into the picture those of you who are directly responsible for the economy. Every resolution, every commitment and every determination of this administration is toward efficiency and economy."

General Dawes then took charge of the meeting, threw his hat to one side and "went" into the subject. He said he wanted every person present to understand that his duty was collecting information for the President.

"When my representatives call on you," he declared, "it is not to seek material for criticism, or for praise, but to get information for the head of this great business corporation, the United States."

NO FAVORS, SAYS DAWES.

"The budget chief will exercise his right to information of every character, whatever it may be, if it has a bearing upon the establishment economy. I will exercise that right whether it deals with the lowest or highest official of a department."

Dawes said he would start out with a pledge to reduce the appropriations for his own bureau 25 per cent during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

"There's a mark for you to shoot at," he added.

"I did not realize the immensity of my task," he continued, "until I came to Washington and found that Hays and Mellon and Weeks did not believe that any radical reductions for the present year should be made.

"Some of you haven't yet given me the names of your budget representatives and I want to tell you now that I want these names tomorrow."

WARN OF MENACE IN TOY BALLOONS

Albany, N. Y., June 30.—Dyes used in coloring toy balloons sold to children are dangerous to the little ones, according to a statement made public by the State Board of Health which has been investigating the matter. The dyes, it is said, are capable of causing severe inflammation when brought in contact with the skin while in a moist condition. Children are warned against sucking or blowing bits of the balloons.

PREDICTS IRISH REPUBLIC BY FALL

Springfield, O., June 30.—Miss Mary Mackwiney, sister of the late Lord Mayor of Cork, declared on her arrival here that Ireland would be recognized as a republic by Fall. Miss Mackwiney said she was "enthusiastic" over the outlook for Irish independence. She made a public plea for Ireland at a big mass meeting last night.

MILL AGENT DIES SUDDENLY IN AUTO

Lenox, June 30.—Frederick Miles of Farmington, Ct., forty-two years old, and an agent for mill supplies, died suddenly in his automobile on West street. James Miller and John Harkins, two friends, were in the car when Miles collapsed. Dr. D. M. Wilcox of Lee, medical examiner, gave the cause of death as heart failure. Miles leaves a sister and two brothers.

News of Motion Picture World

By FRIEDA DAVIS.

FOLLOWING close on the heels of Paramount's announcement of films scheduled for release during the coming season comes a similar list from the Goldwyn offices.

"The Old Nest," the special production written and directed by Rupert Hughes, has just opened in New York, where it is scoring a distinct hit. This feature will probably be shown throughout the country within a short time. The story deals less with a distinct plot than with an elongated picture of family life. Mary Alden is making a name for herself through her work as the mother.

Other pictures are, "The Wall Flower," another Rupert Hughes Story; "The invisible Power," with House Peters and Irene Rich; "The Grim Comedian," by Rita Weiman and featuring Jack Holt; "The Man From Lost River" with House Peters; "Acres of Hearts," by Gouverneur Morris, featuring Lon Chaney and Beatrice Joy; "Grand Larceny," by Albert Payson Terhune, and "The Right Road," by Leroy Scott.

"Hungry Hearts," by Anzia Yezierska, will be made as well as "All's Fair in Love"; with Richard Dix and May Collins; "The Glorious Fool", by Mary Roberts Rinehart; "Dangerous Curves Ahead", by Rupert Hughes; "She Got What She Wanted", by Alice Duerr Miller; and "From the Ground Up", with Tom Moore. Tom Moore will also make "Beating the Game", and Will Rogers will be seen in "Doubling for Romeo" and "A Poor Relation." Betty Compson will be shown in "Even as Eve", and "For Those We Love."

Other important releases will be "The Christian," from Hall Caine's novel; "The Sin Flood", from Henning Berger's "Syndaren" "The Ship" from d'Annunzio's "La Nave", and "Theodore", featuring Rita Jolivet, two Italian productions; and Herbert Brenon's production "Beatrice", featuring Marie Doro, taken from the story by Rider Haggard.

BETTY BLYTHE CUP.

DELMONICO'S was the mecca of all fox-trotters last Thursday night when Wallace Reid presented the Wallace Reid cup to the best pair of dancers on the floor. Tonight Betty Blythe has been invited to present a cup and Delmonico's is preparing for a full house in earnest. Betty Blythe will not, in all probability, accept Fox's offer to go abroad to film "Mary, Queen of Scots." She feels that a month away from the new home she and her husband, Paul Scardon, the director, are building is too long as it is. Furthermore, she has had some inviting offers to star in pictures right in Hollywood.

BETTY BLYTHE

OUR SAILING LIST.

ELSIE FERGUSON is the latest to sail as soon as the finishing touches are put on the new Paramount special, "Peter Ibbetson." Later she will travel through the East, but this trip will take in only England, France and Italy. Her husband, Thomas Clark, will accompany her.

ELSIE FERGUSON

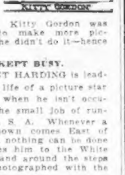
Miss Ferguson will return in the early Fall to start rehearsals for a new stage production, "Varying Shores," written especially for her by Zoe Akins, who came to the fore as a playwright when she wrote "Declasse" for Ethel Barrymore.

AND VILOET MERSEREAU.

ANOTHER to set sail for foreign lands is Violet Mersereau, who has agreed to join J. Gordon Edwards' company in Rome. Mr. Edwards is busy getting ready to "shoot" the first scenes of his super-production for Fox on the life of Nero.

Betty Blythe has been mentioned in connection with the role undertaken by Miss Mersereau, but plans have been changed.

KITTY GORDON has won a judgment of $25,000 against "Broncho Billy" Anderson for breach of contract. Anderson, it is rumored, will return to the screen in a series of "Westerns." Kitty Gordon was scheduled to make more pictures, but she didn't do it—hence the suit.



KITTY GORDON

PRESIDENT KEPT BUSY.

PRESIDENT HARDING is leading the life of a picture star these days, when he isn't occupied with the small job of running the U. S. A. Whenever a star of renown comes East of the Rockies, nothing can be done until he hies him to the White House to stand around the steps and be photographed with the President.

Sessue Hayakawa returned from New York yesterday after having had a long chat on movie matters with Harding, who admits he is the greatest picture fan in the country. The next on the program is Tom Mix, the cowboy star, who is only waiting till his pinto pony, Tony, reaches the East before he leaves for Washington.

CAMERA CLICKS.

AGNES AYRES was another to contemplate a European trip, when she received orders from Jesse Lasky to proceed West immediately to start in on her first starring production. Who would not give up a trip to star in the movies?

KID McCOY is leaving the ring for the comparative quiet of the celluloid. He will, he announces, film the story of his life. Of the seven times he has been married, three of the times were to the same wife, consequently he has chosen her to appear as his leading lady. He adds that the production will be a comedy.

Mary Miles Minter sends this photograph to prove that she reached England safely. She explains that the gentleman directing her, her mother, Mrs. Charlotte Shelby, and her sister, Margaret Shelby, to Buckingham Palace is not the Lord Mayor of London but the hotel doorman.

"Charge It" Seen at the ParkTheatre

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG'S newest picture for Robertson-Cole, "Charge It", is the feature picture on the bill at the Park Theatre this week. Miss Young is best in those parts which surround her with a million dollars' worth of clothes and expensive interior decoration. When she is given a part or, as in this case, a part of a part, in which she shows how the thrifty housewife or the poor but honest shop-girl lives, she refuses, or is unable to play down to the requirements.

"Charge It" tells the experience of a young couple in Benton. At first they are religiously saving up their pennies to build a home and join the country club. When they are suddenly asked to join—because the wife strikes the president of the club as good-looking—they are given a tip on the stock market.

The husband plays the tip and proceeds to gather in a small fortune, but he has little faith in the market and wants to save his money. The wife, on the contrary, goes on a perfect orgy of "charging it." The usual thing happens, the husband tries to put a stop to it; the wife feels that he doesn't "understand her"; and turns to the villain for comfort. He backs out hastily at the thought that she will be free to marry him, and she goes off to earn her own living. She goes down the ladder until she becomes coat-girl in a hotel in San Francisco. There the villain's old butler finds her and straightens out the situation. The inference is that she goes back to Benton and pays cash for everything.

Miss Young is far better in the extravagant scenes than the costume ones. But even at her worst we'd rather see her than many others at their best. Betty Blythe does a splendid bit of work as a villainess, who doesn't care what anybody does as long as she has all the money she wants. Nigel Barrie as the villain is on the screen far too little of the time. We want to see him in bigger roles. He is capable of them.

Civilization's Greatest Achievement

Some Eskimos were brought down to Edmonton, Alberta, on official business.

They had never before been south of the Arctic Circle.

They had never seen a street, a town, a window, or a wooden door. A bed, a water tap, and an electric light produced completely new sensations. Street cars were unknown to them; telephones unheard of; trains not to be believed even when behold.

They had never seen an automobile until someone took them riding in one. They had never set their eyes on an airplane until someone did his most daring stunts in one to thrill them. They had never even seen a movie!

But what do you suppose moved them most in the whole bag of tricks which civilization produced for their amusement and amazement?

What seemed to them the greatest wonder of all?

The cold storage plants!

The White Man didn't always have to hunt and fish when he wanted to eat!

Here was civilization's greatest gift, its greatest benefaction.

This feature of civilization makes it possible for Swift & Company, in the season of over production, to store a supply of food for distribution in the season of scant, or non-production. Thus we are able to maintain for all a constant supply of such choice and necessary foods as Premium Milk-fed Chickens, Brookfield Butter and Brookfield Eggs.

PAY SUBSIDIES BARRED BY LAW

U. S. Officials Who Have Gone Into Own Pockets Wonder at Penalty to Come

Washington, June 30.—Several high administration officials who have let it be known that they had supplemented the government salaries of their assistants from their own pockets, are today wondering what dire penalties will be meted out to them.

That such subsidies are against the law was revealed by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

When he assumed office, Mr. Mellon said he inquired whether such practice was legal and was informed to the contrary.

Chairman Albert D. Lasker of the Shipping Board, whom it had been reliably reported had been considering spending $250,000 out of his personal fortune to hire capable assistants not attracted by small government salaries, said that he had been told such a scheme was not permissible.

Mr. Lasker was "not unique in his plan," Secretary of Commerce Hoover stated, but did not reveal whether he himself or other officials had adopted it. Commenting on the situation, however, Attorney-General Daugherty said:

"I am satisfied Hoover is giving away all his salary."

The Attorney-General went on to deplore the scale of government remuneration for important offices, and added, that "there isn't a lawyer in the Department of Justice who hasn't the earning power of more than he gets here."

PITTSFIELD MAN HELD AS FORGER

Manchester, N. H., June 30.—Roswell C. Cook, also known as "Doctor" Cook," who claims Pittsfield, Mass., as his residence, was held in $300 for the Superior Court in police court today on a charge of forgery. The police allege that Cook passed a worthless check on George McNamara of Manchester street. Cook was brought to Manchester from Nashua where he was also arraigned and held for the Superior Court on a charge of forgery.

Haywood Coming to Face Sentence

Chicago, June 30.—William D. (Big Bill) Haywood, the fugitive I. W. W. leader, will sail for the United States from Russia on July 12 to surrender himself to American authorities, it was announced here.

Haywood is under sentence of twenty years to the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas.

The announcement was made by State Attorney Clyne on receipt of a wireless message from Haywood.

Haywood is due to reach New York on July 26. The message which Haywood sent Clyne was dated "Moscow." It said "Sail July 20th for United States."

Daughter's Refusal to Stay at Home Nights Lands Methuen Man in Court

Methuen, June 30.—Charged with having threatened to shoot his sixteen-year-old daughter, Jennie, Vincenzo Andreolis, of Forest street, was held in bail of $5,000 for the grand jury by Judge Pierce in Police Court here.

Accompanied by a young man friend the girl called at police headquarters and told her story. She said her father had refused to allow her to meet friends. The young woman persisted in leaving the house against her father's wishes at night, the police learned.

With all the celebrating going on, the picnics, parades and speeches, and everybody looking after little Johnny and his fire works—nobody wants to stay in the kitchen and fuss over a hot stove. But just the same, everybody has an out-door appetite that needs special attention.

This has been attended to in the spotless kitchens of Heinz. Special attention as to convenience, good taste, good health and economy has been put into every can of Heinz Baked Beans.

But the Fourth of July is only one day of the year—and Heinz Baked Beans are just as appropriate for the other 364. Just as delicious, just as healthful, just as convenient; and more economical the more you buy.

HOUSE HAS NEW TARIFF BILL

Fordney Measure Is Really Up-to-Date Model of Payne-Aldrich Act

By Universal Service.

Washington, June 30.—The Fordney General Tariff Bill, under preparation at the hands of Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee since January 6, was introduced in the House by Chairman Fordney of that committee.

In a word, the bill is a 1921 model of the Payne-Aldrich act of 1909, intended by the Republican majority in Congress as a substitute for the existing Underwood-Simmons act. It is a protective tariff measure to supplant the existing Democratic "for revenue only" act.

CAUSE OF THE BILL.

The bill takes the usual course of revenue legislation, being referred by the House to the Ways and Means Committee, from which come majority reports in time for the bill to be taken up in the House for general debate next Wednesday, when Congress will resume work after the Fourth of July recess.

The Democratic minority report doubtless will be in the form of a substitute bill, which will amount to a revision of the existing Underwood law, the bill in which Republican Fordney plans to keep it constantly before the House until passed. If necessary to expedite its passage before the end of July, the rules committee will be asked for a special rule to shut off all other than committee amendments, of which there will be few, if any.

COMPARED WITH PAYNE ACT.

While the dutiable lists in the bill on their face are lower than those of the Payne-Aldrich act, when allowance is made for substitution of the American for the foreign basis of valuation, the level of the rates is not greatly different from that in the Payne act.

Under the new method valuation, duties will be assessed against the value of comparable or competitive articles in the principal American markets rather than against the selling or invoice value of the actual commodity.

The committee majority has estimated that if duties are collected on the American valuation basis, they may be reduced thirty per cent, on their face without reducing the amount of customs revenue that will accrue to the Federal treasury or lowering the protection afforded American producers.

In other words, it is estimated that a duty of 70 per cent. American valuation basis, will be the equivalent of a duty of 100 per cent. old foreign valuation basis, and the rates in the pending bill have been cut by that measure.

EMBARGO ON DYESTUFFS.

Aside from the actual protection the bill will afford American industries, being substantially that which the Payne-Aldrich act gave. There are several radical departures from precedent in American tariff legislation. One is that provision is made for an embargo against the importation of dyestuffs which are manufactured in this country in sufficient quantities to meet domestic demands.

The period in which embargoes may be laid, however, is limited to three years. The power is lodged with the tariff commission, which is directed to publish a list of dyes and such coal tar products as are used in the dye industry as are available in America in sufficient quantities to meet American demands, and following such publication no like commodities may be imported for a period of three years, except to be used as samples.

Also, the bill contains the "bargaining principle" for the first time in the history of American legislation, according to its framers. Authority is conferred upon the President to enter into treaties "with a view to securing reciprocal trade with any foreign country."

POWER TO PRESIDENT.

Again, the bill proposes that if the President shall ascertain that other nations are discriminating in tariff restrictions against the United States upon any articles or commodities, he shall have power to retaliate by suspending duties imposed by the pending bill and substitute therefore duties "equal to the duties or exactions" of such countries against American goods.

Under the reciprocal provision of the bill, when the President shall conclude a trade treaty to gain "favored nation" concessions for American goods, he may reduce for a period of not exceeding five years the duties imposed by the pending bill on such commodities as he may designate but not to exceed twenty per cent. However, the time in which such agreements may be entered into is limited to three years and the agreements shall not continue in force more than five years.

TWINS WIN HONORS AT LAWRENCE HIGH

Lawrence, June 30.—Mayor William P. White awarded diplomas to 215 Lawrence High School graduates at commencement exercises. The address to the graduates was given by Frank V. Thompson, superintendent of schools of Boston and former head of the Wetherbee School of this city. A particular feature of the exercises was the fact that the Misses Pansie and Sarah Beale, twins, carried off signal honors. The former won the Hood medal for scholarship excellence and the latter was valedictorian.

Ernest J. Simmons, class president, was awarded the second Hood medal and the History medal.

APE HEARS NEWS OF MASTER

Blue-Blooded Newport Simian Receives Bulletin Regarding Dr. Rice With a Yawn

Newport, R. I., June 27.—Joseph, one of the most aristocratic members of the exclusive society colony at this famous resort, lolled listlessly in the gardens of Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice on Coggeshall avenue.

He apparently took no interest in life, and when questioned by a Boston American reporter regarding the reported return of the Rices from Northern Africa on July 10, manifested his innate breeding by yawning cavernously.

Pressed for an answer "Joe" sprang lightly into a tree, and hooking his caudal appendage to a limb, hung head downward in an attitude of deep contemplation. And thereby hangs a tale, for "Joe" is a monkey, of the Humboldt wooly variety, and is the only known specimen in this country.

"Joe" comes from the fastnesses of the Orinoco River in South America, which the owner and his wife visited on their last expedition up the Amazon. He has curly tail and a long tail and possesses a dainty appetite. The daily ration of Joseph is made up of delicate banana and orange, lettuce, two oranges and a quart or so of sunflower seeds.

This blue-blooded simian has two special cages, one indoors and the other in the garden, where are also located a many branched tree and a small stream of water. For company "Joe" has two McCall parrots, one secured by Dr. and Mrs. Rice up the Amazon and the other turned over to them by a well known opera singer.

Army Worm Holds Up Canadian Trains

By Universal Service.

Washington, June 30.—Army worms won a decisive battle with the Canadian Pacific Railroad, G. C. Woodward, American consul at Campbellton, has informed the Department of Commerce.

Besides stripping a large section many miles in area of every vestige of vegetation, the worms so greased the tracks of the railroad that freight or passenger trains could not run for several days, Mr. Woodward states.

All trains are now equipped with special steam jets placed in front of the wheels to help clear the tracks, he adds.

Thirty-eight bands have been engaged. Mayor Hylan and will be the reviewing officer. The parade will be followed by a monster mass meeting.

$20 A DAY PAID PICKED MINERS

Certain Underground Workers Earn $6,000 a Year Clear of Living Expenses

That the underground work of coal miners has its compensations is revealed in a table compiled by the Boston News Bureau which shows that the picked men of the industry are paid from $12 to more than $20 a day.

The interesting figures show that some of the men have balances of from $3,000 to $6,000 a year after all their living expenses are deducted.

This is made possible by the fact that the coal companies maintain stores where the employes may get living essentials below general prices and also rent living quarters at low rates.

The table is as follows:

ANDOVER COUPLE GIVE STRONG ENDORSEMENT

We Would as Soon Run Out of Groceries as Be Without Tanlac at Our House, Says Boynes.

"We would just as soon think of running out of groceries at our house as we would of being without Tanlac," said John Boynes, 199 Middlesex St., North Andover, Mass., while in Boston recently.

"My wife was in a run down condition for some time. She would get tired very easily, seemed to have no energy at all, and although she wasn't to say sick, her health was so bad she was perfectly miserable all the time. She had no appetite, her food distressed her considerably, and she was constantly having headaches. Her blood seemed to be in poor condition, too, and she was bothered a great deal with a skin eruption.

"Well, I didn't feel at all well myself, and seemed to have none of my usual strength and energy; but we commenced taking Tanlac, and now we are feeling just fine. My wife has such an appetite she can hardly wait for meal time to come and all my old time strength and energy has come back, for me since Tanlac has built me up. My wife used the Tanlac Ointment while taking the tonic, and she is now completely relieved of that skin eruption. She is so enthusiastic about the Ointment she says there's nothing like it and I came down here today to get six boxes to keep on hand. We are both always glad to say a good word for Tanlac."

Tanlac is distributed by International Prop., Inc., and sold in Boston by all Liggett's drug stores.—Advertisement.

Fresh From Paris

PARIS, France.

THE little crepe tailleur has taken well, as one may discern from the number of smart women who are wearing this mode at Longchamps and from other assemblages of representative American, English and French women. The coat front of an attractive model in black crepe de chine displays cut work squares over white crepe, and the cut work also appears in the long sleeves. There is a high collar, over which is worn a double turned-over collar of white crepe de chine and the bottom of the coat, oddly enough, makes no mystery of the bone button used to fasten it. Blonde or smoke colored stockings are preferred to black ones when black sandals are worn.

THE unusual lines along which the coat of a rust colored Canton crepe tailleur are cut give it somewhat the aspect of a short circular cape worn with a matching gilet. All the edges are bound with black satin, including the slits at each side front, which allow the sides of the coat to fall a little over the front. Black satin is used for the collar and as a trimming for the cuffs, and strips of the satin make the applied design at the front of the coat.

SUIT JOKE, SAYS MRS. SHAPIRO

Mrs. Emery's Counsel in $20,000 Alienation Case Predicts "Surprising Evidence"

"It's all a joke," declares Mrs. Sadie Shapiro of Homestead street, wife of Abraham Shapiro, Beach street shoe dealer, referring to a $20,000 suit brought by Mrs. Mary Emery for alienation of the affections of her husband, William Emery, now employed as chauffeur by Mrs. Shapiro.

"We will have some surprising evidence to offer when the case comes up for trial," predicts Wilfred B. Keenan, attorney for Mrs. Emery.

"We expect to show that William Emery became friendly with Mrs. Shapiro at a time when he and his wife were employed at the home of a Mrs. Roberts on Dean road, Brookline.

"We will attempt to prove that Emery's infatuation for Mrs. Shapiro became so great that he sought employment in her home, taking his wife with him to work as first maid."

Mrs. Shapiro denies that anything passed between her and Emery other than the usual relations of mistress and servant.

"In fact, one reason I like him is because he is always so silent," she declares.

URGES FLAGMEN AT EASTHAMPTON

Declaring that too much economy will endanger the lives of the people, Town Counsel N. Seelye Hitchcock today protested against the plan of the Boston & Maine Railroad to discontinue flagmen at the Payson avenue grade crossing in Easthampton. Thornton Alexander of the railroad told the Public Utilities Department that the plan would save the company $4,600 a year, but Hitchcock protested that the crossing was a danger spot before the road consented to station permanent flagmen. Thornton said the road would order all trains to a stop before passing the crossing.

OVERTIME RAIL PAY BANNED

Federal Board Eliminates Time and a Half Rate Paid Workers

Chicago, June 30.—Railway labor chiefs gathered here to decide a course of action on the 12 per cent. wage slash, which by order of the U. S. Railway Labor Board will chop $460,000,000 from railway workers' pay, were confronted by further adverse action of the board.

In a new ruling the board eliminated overtime pay at the rate of time and a half for all workers. However, in another ruling, the railway workers gained a temporary advantage, as the board by indefinitely extending the operation of the national agreements which on April 14 it had directed should terminate Friday permits the present wage scale to continue until agreements between the employing roads and the men have been reached.

MITCHELL WARNS DEALERS IN DRUGS

There will be no extension of time beyond July 1 for filing narcotic registrations, according to a warning from John J. Mitchell, collector of internal revenue. Those several hundred narcotic registrants who have not as yet filed returns will be ruled delinquent and held liable for additional penalties if they do not respond before the three remaining days of grace have expired.

The Truth About Eczema and Piles

Thousands and thousands of people, says Peterson of Buffalo, are learning every week that one 25-cent box of Peterson's Ointment will abolish eczema and banish piles, and the grateful letters I receive every day are worth more to me than money.

"I had eczema for many years on my head and could not get anything to stop the agony. I saw your ad and got one box and I owe you many thanks for the good it has done me. There isn't a blotch on my head now and I couldn't help but thank Peterson, for the cure is great." Miss Mary Hill, 420 Third Avenue, Pittsburg, Pa.

"I have had itching piles for 15 years and Peterson's is the only ointment that relieves me, besides the piles seem to have gone." Mrs. A. Singer, 1127 Washington Avenue, Bayonne.

Use Peterson's Ointment for old sores, salt rheum, chafing and all skin diseases. Druggists recommend it. Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

SUMMER BEAUTY HINT

Hair is by far the most conspicuous thing about us and is probably the most easily damaged by bad or careless treatment. If we are very careful in hair washing, we will have virtually no hair troubles. As especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair, that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt, can easily be used at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox (which you can get at any druggist's), in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. This chemically dissolves all impurities and creates a soothing, cooling lather. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem much heavier than it is. After canthrox shampoo, arranging the hair is a pleasure.—Advertisement.

'HIP POCKET' FROLIC TO FEATURE FIGHT

Washington, June 30. — The Dempsey-Carpentier fight will be featured by one of the grandest "hip pocket parties" staged since the country went dry. Revenue officials today reported greatly increased activities among the hoot-legging fraternity of New York and New Jersey and ascribed it to the approaching championship bout.

WHAT A WOMAN SHOULD DO WHEN SHE IS WEAK AND NERVOUS

THOUSANDS OF WOMEN HAVE SURPRISINGLY INCREASED THEIR STRENGTH, ENERGY AND ENDURANCE IN TWO WEEKS TIME BY THIS SIMPLE EXPERIMENT.

On account of the terrible weakness, nervousness and alarming symptoms, which are often produced by iron starvation of the blood, the sufferer frequently never suspects the real cause of her trouble but thinks she has some other ailment. As a result of iron starvation you may suffer from headaches, dizziness, shortness of breath or heart palpitation, pains across the back, loss of memory, weak will power, melancholy or the "blues," disturbed digestion, loss of appetite, sleepless nights, night sweats and so on. In such cases do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration, but eat more spinach and green vegetables and take organic iron like Nuxated Iron with them for a while and see what a difference it makes. But be sure the iron you take is organic iron and not metallic iron which people usually take. Metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron, while organic iron like Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. Beware of substitutes. Look for the name "Nuxated" on every package and the letters N. I. on every tablet. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. For sale by all druggists.—Advertisement.

TOO FAT Insufficient discharge of a gland secretion causes obesity. Most overfats, you learn, are due to this failure. Thy-tay-ria is a substitute for your own gland secretion, and also tends to correct any excited appetite. Excess formation of abnormal fat dissolves and eliminates itself. Thy-tay-ria makes you feel more comfortable and vigorous. These words have safely used in past ten years, with satisfactory results. Loss from five to seven pounds a week, by saving any good druggist for 5 grains Thy-tay-ria tablets. Price $1.00—all for $5.00.

HARVEY TO URGE YAP SOLUTION

Ambassador to Present Views of Administration on Mandates This Week

Washington, D. C., June 30.—A solution not only of the Yap question, but also of the problem in Mesopotamia, in which the United States has scarcely less interest, will be sought at the forthcoming meeting of the supreme council, it was learned here. Unless the date is again changed, the allied premiers will meet the latter part of this week.

Ambassador Harvey is expected to represent President Harding at the conference and will have full authority to present the views of the administration when the question of mandates comes up for discussion.

On such purely European matters as the Silesian boundary dispute he will participate merely as an observer.

For Lloyd George the Mesopotamian problem has a domestic as well as an international angle. Since the British went into Mesopotamia under the decision of the supreme council at San Remo, in April, 1920, there has been considerable opposition in Great Britain to retention of the territory.

This is based on an unwillingness to expend the money necessary to maintain the British organization and to conquer the warlike Arab tribes.

BOY HURT BY AUTO TRAILER SUCCUMBS

John Crowley, six years old, of No. 15 Wilbur street, Everett, is dead at Whidden Hospital as the result of injuries sustained when his clothing caught in the wheel of an auto trailer, causing his head to strike the ground several times before the driver, Frank A. MacKenzie, of No. 964 Broad street, West Lynn, heard his cries and stopped the machine.

2 MINISTERS FOR UNITARIAN CHURCH

Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson and Rev. Lyman V. Rutledge were unanimously called to the First Parish Church (Unitarian) in Dorchester, one to serve in the pulpit and one to serve the pastoral needs of the church. This is in accordance with a recent vote by the trustees, who felt that two ministers were needed by the church.

Allston Autoist Held

Charged with defaulting a summons to appear in court and with driving after his license had been suspended, Thomas N. Cuniff of Grandville street, Allston, was held in $500 for a hearing July 5. According to the police, Cuniff failed to appear after he had been cited for a violation of the automobile laws last September.

GEN. TAYLOR'S WILL FILED

Bequests to Niece, Brother and Children; Globe Stock to Be Held by Trustees

The will of General Charles H. Taylor, filed in the Suffolk Registry of Probate, leaves his entire property, valued at $1,000,000, to his brother, William O. Taylor, Dorchester; niece of Boston and son-in-law, Matthew J. Armstrong of Hamilton, Mass., in trust. They are exempt from furnishing sureties on their official bonds.

The will was executed on August 5, 1918, and provides a trust for the benefit of certain employees of the Boston Globe, of which General Taylor was the founder.

SIXTH SHARE TO EACH CHILD.

All the residue of General Taylor's estate is left in trust, one-sixth each for the benefit of the children of his brother, William O. Taylor, and one-sixth each for the benefit of the children of his niece, Mrs. Armstrong. Will O. Taylor, Harold Taylor, Elizabeth Taylor and Dorothy and John Taylor.

The share Mrs. Taylor would have received is withheld from her on account of her refusal to be a trustee of the Globe. General Taylor's will directs that the trustees are to continue the Globe as a newspaper, "conducting it in the same manner as I have conducted it during my lifetime."

LEAVES SHORE PROPERTY.

Included in the residue is General Taylor's summer residence known as Tall Timber in the town of Bourne, and a large tract of land bordering on the ocean, on Sandwich line. The latter property is to be improved and disposed of as the trustees may deem best.

Mrs. Taylor is appointed executrix of the will, which directs that the trustees shall not be required to give bonds.

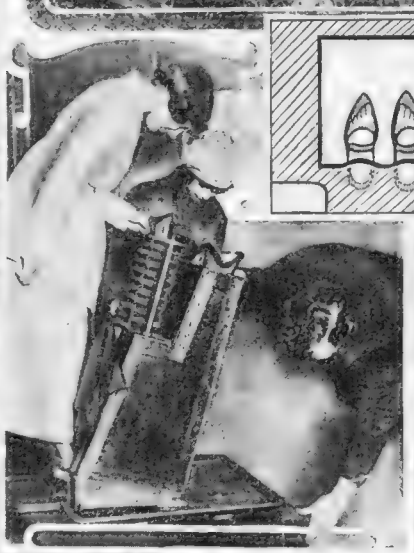
HERO WORSHIP! Carpentier, the beau ideal of the rag, has a peculiar fascination to women. They flock to his training quarters at Manhasset, L. I., in droves. The social queens (below) watching him are, left to right: Mrs. Roderick Tower, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney and Mrs. Philip Boyer. (Key.)

NORMALCY! — Ice cream sodas have gone back to 10 cents in New York. Boston dealers take notice. Ice creams look good, don't they? (U. & U.)

A TRUNKFUL! Elephants have practically cleared the banks of the Brahmaputra River, Assam. This gentle beast is shown removing one of the large trees that dotted the area (Central)



BUTTERFLY! Flits from society to films. Miss Gladys Canty, Louisville social favorite, has listened to the lure of the camera and become a movie actress. (K. & H.)

WHAT SIZE, PLEASE? This invention enables prospective shoe buyers to determine whether the shoes will fit them or not. Thrust feet into camera and X-ray does the rest. Diagram shows result. Used by London stores. (W. W.)

OVER THE NET! Miss Florence Ballin, who is mowing down all comers. Recently defeated Martha Sayard, women's national indoor champion, at the Montclair (N. J.) Club meet. Shown in characteristic drive. (Key.)

BON VOYAGE! An exclusive photo of the Bowdoin, the staunch little vessel that will carry Professor Donald B. MacMillan to the Arctic Circle for his scientific research. Professor MacMillan in insert. The expedition left Boston for Maine yesterday (Key.)

TWO GUESSES! No, it's not "Reggie" Vanderbilt in his younger days. Former King Manuel of Portugal? Correct! How'd you ever guess? He has changed much from the debonair young man who captured the heart of Gaby Deslys. His wife is distinctly French. Both have gone in for horse raising. Photo was taken at the recent Longchamp races, Paris. (K. & H.)

AN OLD STORY! One of the first photographs of the battle in Brunswick street, Dublin, which resulted in the death of 15 persons. A constable is shown searching a pedestrian just after a bomb thrown from ambush had exploded in a lorry, wounding five constables. One of the policemen was throwing it back out of the lorry when it exploded. (Central.)

FIRST HUNDRED YEARS THE HARDEST! This has been confirmed by O. J. Stough of San Diego, Cal., who has just reached his 103d birthday. He is the oldest millionaire living in America. Just to show that he prefers the mellowness of age to the freshness of youth, he trotted out this gas wagon of 1881. (W. W.)

PULL 'EM UP YOUNG LADY! Or I'll pull you in. That's what the fair young copperette said to the fair young bather at Atlantic City. Now we know why those girls at top of page were unmolested. The coppess was busy down here. She is Mildred Grail and she is laying the bare law down to Olive Barnes of Toronto. The protective organization is called the beach patrol, [illegible] Miss Grail. CARPENTIER MAY VISIT BOSTON

Mayor Peters Will Carry Invitation for Fighter to Attend Y. D. Reunion

Leaving Boston tonight for the Dempsey-Carpentier fight in Jersey City Saturday, Mayor Peters is carrying an official invitation to the pugilist to come to Boston on Independence Day to represent the French army in the big parade of Y. D. veterans on that day.

The French champion is a great favorite of the Y. D. boys who are to receive on Saturday his day and Monday for the first time since they were demobilized in April 1919 after fighting many months of front line fighting in France.

Mayor Peters will present the invitation to Sergeant Carpentier at the ringside and will make the trip to Jersey City for that purpose.

Mayor Peters today urged Boston merchants to display the national flags during the stay of the Y. D. here to show the appreciation of a service they rendered in France.

BRAVES GIVEN RIGHT ROYAL WELCOME HOME BY 6,000 FANS

NOSE OUT GIANTS, 3 TO 2

Oeschger and Toney Indulge In Pitching Duel, Though Former Is a Little Wild

By Nick Flatley.

More than 6000 of the faithful friends of baseball braved the spitting clouds, the threatening deluge the fog and murk and gloom and everything, to give the conquering Braves a welcome home. The Mitchmen responded with a very snappy pastime and a victory over the Giant's, 3 to 2 so the 6000 plus were rewarded

The greeting was loud and enthusiastic There has been so much sincere cheering [illegible] as came back from France.

'Twas just like a college game or a world's series. Every player was vociferously applauded on the first journey to the plate. Each Brave play brought forth a roar. Even the desolate weather couldn't prevent the home coming from being a glad and festive occasion.

False Claims.

WE hope there is no Mother who thinks she can treat her sick baby without calling in a Physician, or with remedies that she uses for herself.

Most Mothers know that Baby requires remedies especially prepared for babies, yet there are some who think that what is good enough for them is good enough for Baby, and it is to these Mothers we appeal to give nothing to their babies that is not specially prepared for babies or recommended by their Physician.

False claims may kill, but false claims can never restore your child.

For over thirty years Fletcher's Castoria has been aiding in the reduction of the deaths among infants as Mothers have become more and more acquainted with it. Always keep it in the house.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Mothers Must Use Care.

Why do we so often call your attention to imitations of Fletcher's Castoria? Because it is a baby's medicine and imitations are always dangerous, particularly imitations of a remedy for infants.

Your druggist may not keep an imitation but they are to be found on drug-store shelves. Reliable druggists think only of the welfare of their customers. The other kind only of the greater profit to be made on imitations.

Your own judgment tells you that Fletcher's Castoria having for over thirty years at great expense held up its reputation, must jealously guard it. Then, it follows that this company must use the very best of material. Must employ experts in the selection of the herbs. Must retain skilled chemists in its manufacture.

Your same good judgment must tell you that these irresponsible imitators are trading on your credulity and the reputation built up by Mr. Fletcher, during all these years, for his Castoria.

Time to Forget War-Inflated Prices, Says Forbes; Wall Street More Cheerful

FINANCE AND BUSINESS

By B. C. Forbes

The head of a great department store showed me his monthly statement. The total sales, in dollars, showed a decline from a year ago. I expressed regret.

"Wait," he said as he pointed to other totals. These showed a substantial increase, both in number of customers who had made purchases and in the total volume of goods sold.

* * *

"You see," he went on, "we are doing more business than a year ago, only we are doing business at lower prices."

"How about profits?" I asked.

"They could be better—and they could be a lot worse. When we forget about the war splurge and compare results now with pre-war times, we feel that we are doing pretty well. The trouble is that we're inclined to make comparisons with the abnormal profits that were possible when everything was booming and everybody was spending money without stint."

* * *

Are there not a great many business concerns in a like position? Are not many business men innocently making the mistake of comparing results this year with the results achieved under the wholly artificial conditions which prevailed during the height of war recklessness and extravagance? Is not the habit widespread of making all business calculations in dollars, not in volume, ignoring the fact that the worth of the dollar was very much less during the peak of the boom than it is now?

The truth is that the dollar has fluctuated in value more than the volume of business done by the country as a whole. We, in common with other countries, went ahead and created so many paper dollars to finance the war that we were led into erroneous ideas as to the extent of the industrial and business boom.

* * *

Take our foreign trade. It multiplied astoundingly in dollars and cents, and we were filled with pride over the fact. Since the excitement subsided some cold-blooded statisticians have taken the trouble to figure out just how much our foreign trade in various lines increased in quantity. The showing produced a sobering effect.

A great deal of the "losses" which we complain of today are losses of something we never really possessed. As one shrewd business man recently remarked: "The principal obstacle which impedes the resumption of business is the mental effect of the loss of money which nobody ever had."

* * *

What has become of the riches which have apparently vanished? There has been little loss of intangible goods (or property; little or none has been destroyed. There are just as many shares of stocks existing on the New York Stock Exchange as there were during the boom. The number of certificates has not decreased. The quotations for most of the shares have, of course, fallen. In quite a few instances stockholders are now receiving fewer dollars in dividends.

But the worth of the dollar today is very much greater than it was a year and more ago. Two dollars can now buy what it took three dollars to buy during the hey-day of the boom, and the trend is still in the same direction.

* * *

The total volume of "money" in existence has decreased very substantially during the last twelve months. The Federal Reserve Board reports a shrinkage since its peak of thousand million dollars in paper currency. Much of the "loss" we now talk about, represents nothing but contraction in the volume of indebtedness outstanding throughout the country. Last year we were dealing with inflated dollars and inflated merchandise. We fooled ourselves into believing that both the dollar and the merchandise were worth more than they actually were. Today, both our dollars and our merchandise have less wind and water in them.

* * *

Did you notice the statement issued this week by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York on this subject of measuring trade by volume versus measuring it by volume? Figures obtained from more than half a hundred representative stores in New York showed a decline of 10 per cent. in sales, a circumstance which caused blank looks of surprise. "When price changes are taken into consideration, it is clear that the volume of merchandise distributed over the counter continues to be larger this year than last year."

* * *

It's time for us all to take our bearings afresh. It's time for us all to forget about the jamboree we indulged in during the hectic war boom. It's time for us all to start making comparison of our conditions now with our conditions before the world was thrown into temporary upheaval.

* * *

If we do this, we will realize that the state of industry, of agriculture, of business and of labor is not so terribly disheartening as we have lately been disposed to imagine. Don't let us harbor the notion that things are worse than they really are.

MOTORS BOOST BULL MOVE

Durant's Activity in New York Market Induces Much Urgent Buying

By BROADAY WALL

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

New York, June 30.—The bull campaign was moved a notch higher Wednesday when it was reported that William G. Durant, former head of the General Motors Corporation, was again active in the market for that stock.

The magnetism of the name Durant accomplished what others have been trying to do for months and that is to advance the price of the stock. There is such a huge amount of General Motors outstanding that the humorists of the street have often stated that the company desired to place a share in every home and an advance of more than a point in the issue is considered a hard task to perform in view of the huge supply of the shares. Urgent buying of the motors followed reports that Mr. Durant was once more active in it.

EXPECT REGULAR DIVIDEND.

Reports of Durant's activity in General Motors led to much speculation as to whether he planned to work his way back through the stock market to the presidency of the corporation. Mr. Durant was deposed from the presidency of the Duponts and associates took over 2,000,000 shares of General Motors from Mr. Durant.

Strength of General Motors also indicated that the directors of that issue would probably declare the regular dividend. Up to within the week reports had been current that it would be cut of passed. Rumor had it that another pool had been formed in the issue for the purpose of marking the price up.

MARKET STILL CLIMBS.

Despite the advance in call money to 4 per cent. on the Stock Exchange and outside of the institution's walls business is declining due to preparation payments in London, the stock market continued upward. Advance of from one to two points were recorded throughout the day. Closing prices were below the best but the undertone was strong and indicated a continuation today of the upward movement.

One favorable development was the revival of activity in the railway equipment shares, particularly those selling for a small number of dollars per share. Pere Marquette, Kansas City Southern and Pere Marquette were favorites in this group. Railroad shares were also influenced by the announcement that the Pennsylvania Railroad will order at once working conditions with about 40,000 of its men.

Cotton Market

New York, June 30.—Prices were a little lower at the opening of the cotton market today. Liverpool offerings were absorbed by Japanese and Orleans interests. Wall Street and local traders operated on both sides of the market. Trade was active in the last hour and closed at a net decline of 3 to 10 points. Prices were:

By MONITOR.

NEW YORK, June 30.—Strength and activity characterized the market in the closing hour of the session and confidence was increased by the manner in which special active favorites came to the front. U. S. Steel was whipped up with striking buoyancy to seventy-five in the last few seconds of trading and the other steels were strong. Studebaker apparently is attracting a large following and its good showing caused a buzzing throughout the whole motor group.

THE general market was favorably influenced by President Harding's statement that "we have been talking about a better administration for a hundred years, but now we are going to get it." This is taken to mean that early action might be expected on the taxation problem, while the early introduction of the permanent tariff bill in the House will. Wall Street believes, result in dispatching the uncertainties which surround many lines of business.

IN authoritative quarters it is learned that the reports recently in circulation that the United States Steel Corporation would announce a cut in their reduction in prices and wages July 1 is erroneous. It is understood that the prices of a large number of products will be readjusted and that there will be some readjustment in the wage scale about July 15. According to this source, the hourly rate of labor in the steel industry there will be elimination of the over-time pay allowance. It is reported that was responsible for the buying of U. S. Rubber Steel Tuesday and again yesterday.

REPORTS from many sections of the country indicate that the movement of motor car buying which even the trade is unable to explain. In New York agents who had not expected to do any more business this Summer have reported sales of from three to eight cars daily, this week. This unexpected development has changed the trading attitude towards the motor car stocks. The line features in the sales at pleasure car companies and those engaged wholly in making trucks is sharply drawn.

THE street has been filled with propaganda favorable to Studebaker. The market situation in the stock has been confused for more than a month. Equally influential firms have been buyers and sellers openly. It is reported now that Durant and his speculative associates have taken over the their control and that based on the increasing business the declaration of an extra dividend being declared next month, they will execute a coup.

WALL STREET is rather confused as to the exact status of the railway labor situation. The national agreements were ordered abrogated by the Railroad Labor Board, it is said. It was presumed that the railroads and their employes would reach satisfactory conclusions prior to that date. Save only with certain groups of railroad workers headed by the American Federation, no agreements have been reached. There is talk of strikes being called on many roads unless they do not accept the reduction in wages ordered by the board. The board, it is understood here, believes the workers will accept the reduction in order to avoid agreement on present working conditions throughout the country. There are no many conflicting reports reaching here that the commission members have left Washington and the Railway executives, it is understood, are preparing for a strike. It would be despite this, the railroad stocks as a group remain strong.

IT is understood the Erie Railroad has placed an order for 1,000 box cars, and that some of the other carriers are asking for estimates for rolling stock. It is said also that the roads are making up lists of their small tool requirements, and that the Illinois Central, Rock Island and Lehigh Valley have submitted such lists to manufacturers asking for quotations.

THE tire companies generally continue to report increased sales, the bulk of these announcements coming made from the Akron territory. Yesterday the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company let it be known that beginning next week, they will increase their daily output 1,000 tires to 5,000 tires as compared with the 1920 peak of 2,800.

AMONG the specialties, United States Realty and Improvement was one of the features on a rise of 2 points and advancing to 40 within a few minutes, a net gain of three points. Activity in this issue usually is taken in hand by a speculative group during this season of the year, and it has been rumored that a 2 per cent. extra dividend would be declared. The stock opened unchanged, but there were few transactions recorded.

DIRECTORS of the United States Smelting, Refining & Reducing Company yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent. on the preferred stock of that company.

UNITED States Rubber responded sympathetically to the advance in the general market, the buying broadening however, largely from a short interest. This buying was hastened somewhat by the action on the part of the Hodgman Rubber Company, which yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent. on the preferred stock of that company.

THE weekly reviews of the iron and steel trades presented little that was new or indicative of changing conditions. The independents are reported as operating at 15 to 25 per cent. of capacity, and the corporation at 30 per cent. Leaders in the industry are a unit in saying that the present situation is without parallel in this country. Despite this adverse report the steel stocks were strong. United States Steel making a new high for the movement.

IT is understood that a well known operator in the steel stocks has secured this short commitments and has taken a constructive position on these stocks for the present at least.

THERE was evidence of activity by speculative groups in various parts of the market yesterday. The International Paper was one of these, activity being stimulated by the declaration of the regular 1½ per cent. preferred dividend.

DIRECTORS of the E. W. Bliss Company met yesterday and declared the regular dividend of $1 per share on the first preferred, 15 cents per share on the new second preferred and 65 cents per share on common.

IMPROVED TONE IN BOSTON

Local Market Dull and Narrow; Curb Strong on Limited Trading

The tone of the Boston market improved in late trading and it closed with grains predominating. It was irregular at the start and remained rather mixed as to trend during the morning. The advance in New York was finally felt here. But local trading was so dull and narrow that only a feeble response could be expected. Coppers and parking issues pulled higher. Dealings in rails were on too small a scale to establish a trend, but they could be called firm. Calumet & Hecla advanced three points and point or more gains were made by Edison, Boston & Maine D, Quincy and International Products. while New Haven, United Fruit, Gray & Davis and Carson Hill were fractionally higher. Reconstruction Finance from one to three points were recorded for Amoskeag, McElwain first preferred, Barnsdall, International Cement, N. E. Telephone, Calumet & Arizona, United Drug and Waltham Watch preferred.

STAGNANT CURB TRADING.

It could be said of most Curb stocks that they were stagnant, the turnover being less than 50,000 shares, with only Boston & Montana, Eureka and Daddy comparatively active. But the market was strong on a few transactions gains exceeding losses in a four to one ratio. Gains included United Verde Extension 1, South American Gold ⅛, Chief ⅛, Harmill 9 cents, Boston & Montana 1 cent, Eureka 1 cent, and Daddy 1 cent. Among declines were Mutual 2 cents, First National 2 cents, Arizona Tip Top half a cent and Iron Cap ⅛.

BOSTON FINANCIAL NOTES.

Government withdrawals from Boston banks this week will aggregate $9,000,000.

The Board of Bank Incorporation has taken under consideration the petition of officers of the South End and Roxbury for a charter to the Industrial Trust Company, a new institution to be started from the branch of the Old Colony.

Frederick Smith, R. B. Brewer, Gray L. Gulbenkian, W. Winder Laird, Andrew Y. Peck and Frederick H. Prince constitute the committee for holders of Gilliland Oil Co. participating certificates.

George A. Hassell of Allen Arnold & Company has been elected a member of the Boston Stock Exchange.

Island Oil & Transport Company has sold $2,500,000 6 per cent. participating, gold preferred stock. It will be offered to the public at 97.

Directors of grocer 40 expenses shown by the Atlantic Tea Store last year to $1,000,000, exceeding 10 per cent., a cut of 2 per cent. from 1920. Net profits were $1,000,000, a substantial reduction from January and February rates.

ENGLAND NEEDS SUPER-LEADER

No Ordinary Politician Can Pull Her From Morass In Which She Is Plunged

By E. V. HICKEY

(Fourth Installment)

The report of the American Commission which investigated conditions surrounding the present Irish situation was branded as a "vile and odious slander upon the Empire" in an article appearing in one of the most conservative of the English newspapers.

Attorneys also attacked the bribery charges, declaring the players could not "bribe themselves to jail."

The trial of Ben Franklin, the St. Louis defendant, was continued until September when investigators reported him very ill.

Cicotte, Gandil, called the "second ringleader," lost his fight for a continuation and appeared in court today.

Other defendants present were: "Eddie" Cicotte, "Buck" Weaver, "Chick" Gandil, "Swede" Risberg, "Happy" Felsch, "Lefty" Williams, Joe Jackson, Ben Levi, Joseph Levi and Sayvle Zelser.

Judge Friendly only ruling at tea time was that hearing of the defense. He allowed the defendants to plead "not guilty."

The case then postponed until next Tuesday to prevent "locking up" the jury over July 4.

Bank Loans Reduced

Within a year loans by all banks in the United States have been reduced by $5,000,000,000. In June, 1920, they totaled $42,000,000,000 and they are now reported at not far from $37,000,000,000.

SIGNS OF TURN FOR BETTER

Evans Finds Many Interests Have Come Down About as Low as Possible

By C. B. EVANS

Chicago, June 30.—There are some signs, in the midst of this scalding weather, of a turn for better things, not that anything constructive has yet made its appearance, but because many interests are down about as low as one could imagine them to be and the Autumn is likely to bring an increased demand for commodities.

A moderate reaction in the general world liquidation, even though that reaction applied only to this country or certain portions of it, would be that of a rather restricted demand for all articles on account of the impoverishment of buyers. Some anticipation of this has wrought quite a change in the spirits of good observers.

ENCOURAGING ORDERS.

Corporate activity hereabouts is now on a small scale as compared with any previous time in the liquidation. Some companies, however, are getting encouraging orders, and of such it may be said that the conditions, which have been in progress for many months, promise new orders amounting to many times those now in sight. There is improved buying of the odds of steel, agricultural implements and International Harvester has been taken on a fairly durable scale of late by strong concerns.

Operators in agricultural products have been inspired lately not so much because of enhanced prices, but because there is abundant fluctuations in wheat to reward speculative ingenuity. Th essentially unchanged condition of the "legitimate" trade is indicated by premiums on spot wheat about as high as a year ago.

IMPROVEMENT IN BUILDING.

Improvement in the Chicago building trades is evidenced by such concession by the carpenters, who have heretofore been the refractory element, as afford promise of the resumption of work in a day or two. Ever since Judge Landis agreed to be umpire, other lines of the building industry have been fairly active, but so long as the carpenters held out, of course, all the rest were subjected to many limitations.

One can hardly expect building on a very general scale in view of the lack of demand for certain classes of structures. Flats, especially, the larger ones, are in excessive supply in contrast with the great shortage of a few months ago.

Changes in the money rates are much smaller than might have been expected. In spite of recent reductions by the Federal Reserve banks, the regular counter rate for money in this city is 7 per cent. Nor are the bankers over anxious to lend, for their lines are pretty full.

SHOULD BE LOWER.

Looked at from one point of view, money rates should be much lower than they are. By as much as the prices of commodities have come down, by so much is less capital required to carry them. This, seemingly, should be a pretty large element, inasmuch as many objects of trade have been cut in half as to price.

In the face of reductions of rates elsewhere, the bond market is scoring higher rates than before the drop in prices. The would-be bond buyer sees the smoke rising on the ruins of many a bonfire and he hesitates.

ORDERS ACCUMULATING.

The best that can be expected is that during a dull Summer there will likely be a considerable number of orders accumulating which shall have something of a lift during the Autumn.

One must still remember that we have too many things and too many people refusing to buy. We are too rich in the sense of the wealth of all sorts heaped and blared their fog horns to wage all and sundry of their proximity.

SHIPS COLLIDE IN HARBOR FOG

American Line Freighter Deranof Hits Atlantic Fruit Steamer Sagua

The American Line freighter Deranof collided with the Atlantic Fruit Company steamer Sagua in the fog in lower harbor. The Sagua was not underway and the Deranof, outward bound, was proceeding at but five knots an hour.

The bridge of the Deranof was somewhat damaged, but Captain Freeman continued out to sea on his way to Hamburg after he had witnessed that the seaworthiness of his vessel was not impaired.

The Sagua, inward bound from Honduras with 42,000 bunches of bananas, later proceeded up the harbor to her pier with a bow slightly damaged.

Other vessels, coastwise and overseas, came crawling into port when their engines barely working over and their whistles and sirens blaring dismally through the mist.

The fishing schooner Elmer E. Gray of Gloucester piled high and dry on Dewey's Cliff, the Highlands, and had to be pulled off by the tug Neptune and towed to Fisherman's Point, South Boston, leaking badly.

Delays and deferred sailings were rife. The Fall River Line boat, New York, took five hours to work her way cautiously from Sandwich, at the east end of the canal, to her pier, and the Maine steamers were from half an hour to one hour late in docking.

Quarantine sounded like the Franklin Park Zoo at feeding time, as a dozen or more craft of all sorts heated and blared their fog horns to wage all and sundry of their proximity.

FIN. COM. TAKES MAYOR TO TASK

"Didn't Know What He Was Talking About," Says Report on Street Repairing

The Finance Commission tells Mayor Peters, in a report just submitted to him, that he was all wrong and did not know what he was talking about when he told the United Improvement Association last month that "public service corporations making openings in streets are alone responsible for their repavement."

The commission says:

"It seems clear that the responsibility for restoring and repaving such openings belongs fully and solely to the city, with ample provision for reimbursement by the party or corporations permitted to make such openings.

The following recommendations are made by the commission:

1—That the commissioner of public works make an examination of all openings in the traffic area of all sorts heated and blared their fog horns to wage all and sundry of their proximity.

War Posters Worth $50,000 Now Junk

More than $50,000 worth of bill posters and advertising cards have been unearthed in a junk shop on Albany street, Salem, according to newspaper men who have been working on the case for some time.

These posters and advertising cards were printed to aid various drives, from recruiting during the war, Liberty Loans, Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. and Knights of Columbus drives down to and including the Pilgrim Tercentennial at Plymouth.

Thousands upon thousands of the cards are gradually going to decay in the storerooms of the Salem junk dealer.

None of them, so far as could be learned, was ever displayed in the aid of the various drives. They were sold in bulk either before the drive was over or afterwards.

pairs. By far the greater part of such openings are apparently due to the operation of the water service of the city of Boston, either in repairing the general service pipe, or an account of the work of the high pressure fire service."

Stocks of Crude Rubber

Stocks of crude rubber stored in New York are estimated to total from 75,000 to 80,000 tons, while London has about 75,000 tons on hand. The amount the Far East is holding for shipment is figured at being around 100,000 tons. In fact, the world surplus approximates 250,000 tons, an increase of 50,000 tons in six months. In nine years the price has ranged from a 1921 low of 15 cents a pound to a 1912 high of $1.03¼.

BANK OF NATIONS BILL IN SENATE

Hitchcock Measure Provides Purchase of $1,300,000,000 of Stock by U. S.

By International News Service.

Washington, June 30.—The establishment of an international banking institution to be known as the Bank of Nations with headquarters in New York City is provided for in a bill introduced in the Senate today by eSnator Hitchcock of Nebraska.

The bill provides that the Secretary of the Treasury shall subscribe for $1,300,000,000 of the capital stock of the bank on behalf of the United States.

Corporation Reports

For May the Third Avenue Railway System reports a deficit after deductions of $46,311, against a deficit of $66,000 in the corresponding 1920 month, and for the eleven months ended May 31, 1921, a net deficit of $1,000,000, compared with a deficit of $762,500 in the first preceding year.

The Chile Copper Company reports for the March quarter a profit of $1,686,288, after depreciation and other charges of $1,686,288. Dividends declared during the quarter totaled $2,500, quarterly and surplus of $878,608 in the September 1920 quarter.

Net earnings of the Kayser Company for 1920 created $22,277 in May and gained $2,308 in June.

On May 26 the cash assets alone of the Vanadium Corporation were equal to seven times all current liabilities, exclusive of the $1,000,000 bonds due in 1923, all liabilities and all taxes due for the balance of the year.

General Electric's bookings for first six months of 1921 are at the rate of only approximately $190,000,000, or about 55 per cent. of the $350,000,000 bookings reached the record of $519,000,000.

U. S. Steel Shareholders

When the United States Steel Corporation filed its income tax return for 1920 it had the high record number of 176,318 common shareholders, while it is estimated that owners of its preferred issue approximate 60,000. With a year the number of holders of common has increased 18,687, the gain since end of 1916 was 67,559, an increase of approximately 189 per cent. Its stockholders on December 31, 1916, numbered 37,726.

Air Fleets Bombing Iowa From Skies

By International News Service.

Washington, June 30.—The bombing of the old battleship Iowa by fleets of army, navy and and marine corps flyers got under way this morning off the Virginia coast, according to a long-distance telephone message to the Navy Department at noon.

"Contact was made with the Iowa at 10:45 a. m." said a message received. "All the navy, marine corps and army planes left shore stations at 11:23 a. m. to attack the warship.

BARNEY UNDER ATWOOD'S CARE

Woburn Doctor Serving Life Term Attends Convalescing Slayer of Policeman

Herman L. Barney, who is serving twenty years in Charlestown State Prison for the slaying of Patrolman Charles E. Deininger, is making a satisfactory recovery after an operation for gallstones.

He is being attended by Dr. Kilbridge D. Atwood, one survivor of the "Triangle Tragedy" of 1916.

Atwood, a young Woburn osteopath, is serving life for the murder of Dr. Wilfred A. Mansfield, former head of the Massachusetts College of Osteopathy.

The actual operation was performed by Dr. McLaughlin, prison physician, and Dr. Cunningham of Boston. It showed that the chief of the bandits had not been exaggerating in his stories of his ills.

Dr. Atwood, who appears in the role of Barney's good angel in this situation, has been a prisoner since and an influence for good since his commitment, according to prison officials.

Some time ago Barney was made to the Governor's Council to pardon him. The move failed.

Dr. Atwood shot and killed Dr. Harris, a much older osteopath, in their office in Woburn.

The shooting followed discovery by Atwood, it is alleged, that Harris had stolen the life of Dr. Celia Faber Adams, a young woman practitioner of osteopathy with whom Atwood was in love.

Fears No Car Shortage

Chairman L. F. Loree of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad is of the opinion that there is no pressing need for railroads to buy freight cars as there must be considerable traffic expansion before the present equipment is overtaxed. On June 8 this year idle cars totaled 389,526. In April, 1919, the car shortage was figured at 187,000 cars.

The Custody of Your Money

Life Insurance Heads Who Think Public Should Not Be Too Inquisitive

Copyright, 1921, Star Company

Mr. Dryden, who heads the Prudential Life Insurance Company, cannot see why the public should be critical or inquisitive about what an insurance president does with the money confided to his keeping by policyholders.

If he puts most of it into banks in which he is a large stockholder, and those banks make by its use a profit, part of which goes straight into his private pocket, why isn't that all right?

As president of the Prudential Mr. Dryden gets $75,000 a year. Naturally, being a teacher of thrift for others, he feels called upon to practice what he preaches, hence his picking up a quarter of a million or so on the side each year by these pleasant little investments oughtn't, he thinks, to subject him to criticism.

The law permits it. Anything inside the law is nobody else's business, by advice of counsel.

Of course the trouble with this view is that it creates a powerful special interest with a motive to mix in the law-making, so that laws which permit these delightful by-product profits out of insurance shall not be changed.

It also centres in one man a money power which few men are competent to wield justly or wisely.

Mr. Peabody, head of the Mutual Life, did not agree with the New York Legislature of 1906 that insurance companies ought not to invest so largely or speculate at all in railroad securities.

He wanted to hold on to the great blocks of New Haven and other railroad stocks bought by the insurance companies when the late J. P. Morgan dominated the railroad, the insurance and the financial world to the injury of all three.

Peabody persuaded the Legislature to permit him to retain railroad stocks bought for the Mutual Life at a time when the late Mr. Morgan controlled insurance presidents as he did railroad presidents.

Result: 38,000 shares of New Haven, then quoted at $189 a share, now hovering around $18.

To be just to Mr. Peabody, many sagacious investors, and 20,000 women in New Haven alone, risked their savings in the same way, under the spell of Morgan's name, and thousands were impoverished by his uncontrolled mania to create private monopolies.

The wisdom of the people, as reflected by the Legislature, in this instance, at least, proves to have been greater than the wisdom of the strong man who scoffs at "legislative interference."

Mr. Peabody is not as contemptuous of the public interest in insurance management as Mr. Dryden was. He is an older and wiser man. But he would prefer to be let alone. He is pretty sure that he knows his business best.

But here, again, the business he is so sure of is primarily the public's business and the manner in which Mr. Dryden has handled this kind of business is a pretty expensive example of what private management of public business may become when the public is not fully informed.

Perhaps it would simplify matters and save much anxiety if both life and fire insurance were publicly managed in the public interest, without paying tribute to high financiers, or paying private profit to high officers for the use of other people's money, held by them only as trustees.

Sales Tax You Now Pay

The average addition to original taxes as they are shifted from source to the consumer is 23 per cent. That is what concealed taxation, with profit additions, does to you people. You pay $1.23 for something that would cost you $1 if there were no taxes at all, and for which you would pay $1.04 at the most if there was only a sales tax of 1 per cent. on the goods at each turnover.

If your household expenses are $1,230 a year you are paying $230 of that in concealed taxes and pyramided profits.

If there were only a 1 per cent. sales tax on each turnover you would pay from $1,035 to $1,040 for your same annual household expenses.

That is to say, you could live exactly as well as you and your household do and put from $190 to $200 a year in the savings bank.

And yet there are men who tell you working people that the sales tax is meant to shift the burden of taxation from the shoulders of the rich to your shoulders!

Don't believe that. It is not true.

The proposed sales tax would exempt income from sales amounting to $5,000 a year or less from all taxation.

You never will escape taxation entirely, because all taxes come from the last buyers; but you CAN escape the pyramiding of profits that increases the concealed taxes you now pay to the tune of 23 per cent.

You can cut down your consumption tax to 3½ per cent., or 4 per cent. at the most, by all working for and voting for an honest sales tax.

We are telling you the truth about this sales tax.

Don't be deceived by those who are telling you what is not true about it.

We All Inherit Much

Money Is Not Our Chief Wealth

Copyright, 1921, Star Company

Charles Garland, well-meaning young man who knows as much about real life as the tiny yellow chick behind the incubator glass, has refused two and a half million dollars of inherited money.

He says it would be wrong for him to take money that he did not earn. Men should be willing to work for nothing, says he, and would dig sewers, but he would not take money for it.

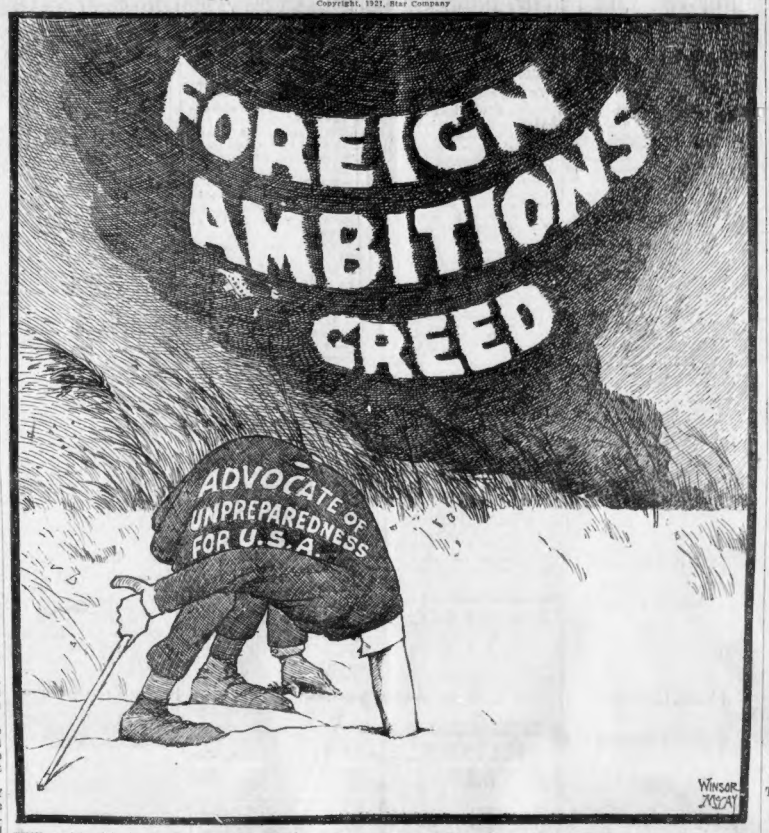
That would be good philosophy for a newly hatched chick.

Mr. Garland's brain, vibrating gently, represents an inheritance greater than money. He does not refuse that. His erect position, which makes life worth while, represents a million years of inherited struggle. Mr. Garland inherits—never earned and never deserved—his five fingers, the bare feet in which he likes to work, the language with which he expresses his ideas. All that is inheritance.

Why accept all that and refuse DOLLARS which are simply FROZEN LABOR, that intelligence can release and transform in any way it sees fit.

The Ostrich

Copyright, 1921, Star Company



THE ostrich sticks his head in the sand, thinking it thus becomes invisible. The pacifist would disarm our rich nation in the hope that other nations would copy the example.

China has tried that for scores of centuries and repeatedly has been invaded and robbed. India is helpless before British oppression because of lack of arms.

Playing ostrich in a world still containing so many robbers is more than foolish—it is unsafe.

BE ORIGINAL

Be original—think out things for yourself and then attend to your business.

Some folk spend so much time watching to see what someone else is doing that they never get a chance to get in first.

There is no reason why your mind is not as good as the next fellow's, and the thing to do is to use it.

It is not well to be an egotistical person, but it is well to realize that your own thought is worth more to you than someone else's thought, no matter how good the thought of the other fellow.

If you know enough to copy the other fellow you will always find plenty of persons who instantly recognize where you got your idea.

That is one against you right away.

Earn a reputation for copying anything or anybody.

But you think you must get inspiration somewhere.

Well, then, let it be inspiration, but don't let it be plain, unvarnished stealing of ideas.

Real inspiration comes from thinking what others are doing and then doing something different.

Fall in line—yes—but do it in an original way.

Letters to the Editor

Fenders for Autos

Editor Boston American:

We are reading every day of the increase of auto accidents and every city and town is devising means to lessen them, but no one suggests the use of fenders. We have fenders on some of our electric cars, but most of us would call them more dangerous than none at all. Some people think that a fender would disfigure an auto, but wouldn't it hurt an owner more to kill a child or a grown person? A. A. N.

Lynn.

Aliens in Jobs

Editor Boston American:

Yours being the only representative paper of the American people in Boston, would like to ask the following: This government is at present having built several war vessels at a shipyard a short distance south of Boston; the question is this. How is it that the majority employed are foreigners, while Americans are walking the streets looking for a job?

I hope that the American Legion will take notice, as well as others who ought to be interested. The writer is not seeking a place there and did his bit during the war, but when you see aliens working while your own are looking for it, I think that it is time that some one got busy. R. E. McBRIDE.

Dorchester.

He Kept Note

A man w... invited to speak at a local gathering and, being nobody in particular, was placed last on the list of speakers. Moreover, the chairman introduced several speakers, whose names were not on the list, and the audience was tired out when he said, introducing the final speaker, "Mr. Brown will now give us his address."

"My address," said Mr. Brown, rising, "is No. 55 Rushton avenue, and I wish you all good-night."

CRAWL, NOT THE RUSH, THAT USES ONE UP

By Winifred Black

Copyright, 1921, Newspaper Feature Service.

THE doctor says it's the crawl that kills, and not the rush.

He declares that the men who work the hardest live the longest—and the women, too.

Of course they do!

Have you ever seen a man live more than five years after he'd retired from business—really retired, I mean, and given up any active interest in the world around him?

I never did.

Have you ever seen a woman who is getting old and tired and bored to death—a woman with a favorite doctor and a particular trained nurse and her choice in hospitals—and watched that woman when her daughter married and introduced her to a fine, husky young person, who intended to call her "grandma" as soon as he could learn to talk?

Mother was dying by inches. It took "grandma" to come back to earth.

Stagnation Kills

Stagnation—that's the thing that kills! Not interest or even excitement.

I know a woman who's always getting somebody a job or finding a home for some family without a roof over its head, or hunting up Mary, who's run away to the city, and bringing her back home to surprise mother, or getting somebody to adopt some forlorn little mite of an orphan.

Always doing something for somebody, that woman, and sometimes she worries a good deal about it. I remember one night when she couldn't sleep, she was so busy wondering what in the world she was going to do for a woman with three children and not a particle of sense in her little, round, sleek, rather good-looking head.

The woman I know was tired and she looked pale, and I took it upon myself to lecture her.

"It's all very well about the one who can never hold a job," said I, "but how about you? Don't you owe anything to your family or friends or even to yourself? Do you love to look in the glass and see yourself growing pale and haggard and old before your time?"

Thinking of Others

The woman I know sat in bed and looked at me.

"See here!" she said. "I was born to worry. I can't help it any more than I can help the color of my hair—but I'm going to do my worrying about something that matters.

"If I wasn't fretting over that little goose of a Mary Morgan and her three poor, little, helpless children, I'd be lying awake worrying because my new dress was too long or too short or something. And I can put just as many white hairs into my head by wondering why on earth the cook always bakes biscuits enough for ten when there are only three for luncheon, as I can by fretting over the rest some poor family has to pay."

And I believed her and I was ashamed of myself, and I let her alone.

Active minds must have something to occupy them, something of some use to somebody. If they haven't they'll occupy themselves with something that's no use to a human soul—not even to themselves.

If I wanted to live a long time I'd keep busy and keep interested, and keep laughing and keep crying, and keep making new friends and writing to old ones, and seeing new people and reading new books and talking over the new plays. And if I wanted to get old and die I'd sit down on the porch in an easy rocking chair and fold my hands and get ready to "take it easy."

I'd rather wear out than rust out—and besides it takes longer to do the wearing than it does the rusting.

Smiles

THE MODEL

A dowager, owing to certain changes in her household, had to part with her butler. She gave him a cordial reference to a prospective employer—one of the new rich. A few days later she was annoyed to receive a catechism of questions from this lady: "Was he courteous, gentlemanly, honest, a teetotaler and of distinguished appearance?" To which she replied: "The Dowager Lady Blank wishes to say, in reply to Mrs. Dash's inquiries, that if her late butler owned the virtues enumerated she would have married him herself years ago."

KEEPING UP TRADITION

Angry Father—"How dare you come home like this in the middle of the term, sir? And how dare you have the audacity to tell me you don't like your school? Why, that school has turned out some of the most brilliant men in the country."

Young Hopeful—"Yes, dad, they turned me out!"

SUPERMEN WANTED IN WORLD TODAY

By Dr. Charles Fleischer

Copyright, 1921, by Premier Syndicate, Inc.

DID you read—and answer—the advertisement in the Daily Cosmos?

It appears every day and in every edition. Apparently, it is inserted by the World Manager, bent upon the most and efficient organization of the human race.

It cries out in capitals: "WANTED, SUPERMEN!"

Evidently, He wants big men, bigger than the average, the biggest men—SUPERMEN—to help Him in His Superhuman Task.

During the World War such a man finally appeared in General Foch—a twentieth century, democratized, constructive, creative Napoleon—soul, brain, heart, voice, arm of the People, of the Nations—a Superman.

WANTED, SUPERMEN! Men big enough not only to lead but to be led—and just to live the complex, intense and swamping life of the time.

We are not large enough to compass, to surround, to contain our life of today.

Many Brave Persons

Yes, there are many brave, masterful-seeming persons. But they gave one no impression of having answered the riddle of the Sphinx.

Have you? Or does life live you, instead of your living life?

It seems—perhaps it only seems—that there used to be, in past generations, a closer approach to success in the art of living. Repose, serenity, and even joy used to be commonplace achievements.

Those folks appear to have felt more at home on earth than we do. The facts of life were not too much for them. They carried a spiritual surplus from day to day.

And they died rich—in spirit.

As for us, we are not big enough to live our more complex life. We are continuously bankrupt, spiritually.

Why should mankind continue its vain struggle if we cannot master the facts of life by asserting and proving the human spirit to be superior to all possible experience?

Almost sermonesque this sounds! but why should not one preach in the name of Democracy?

In such a case one must obey the impulse to appeal for the production of the greatest possible worth in the greatest number of persons.

WANTED, SUPERMEN!

This is no call for a self-chosen few—whether in Russia or America—superior in their own conceit, or powerful to exploit the weakness of the mass.

THIS IS A CALL FOR A BILLION AND A HALF OF SUPERMEN!

Democracy echoes the advertisement of the World Manager.

Democracy is a demand for aristocracy—for the domination of the best in each of us and the dominance of the best among us. The cream in human nature and the cream of human beings coming to the top!

Able to Master

How shall we have supermen as leaders—as the successive crises of the race will henceforth continuously demand—unless even the average individual develops the qualities of superlative calibre which at least make him a significant Personality?

From such a mass of democratic supermen always there would dependably emerge the creative, constructive leaders able to meet and to master a particular emergency and to direct the movement of democracy toward general benefit and common betterment.

WANTED, SUPERMEN. The call comes to YOU. Summon your soul-stuff!

Wanted—the choice of interests of permanent value. Wanted—the quest of soul, the pursuit of spiritual wealth. Wanted—sympathy, fellow-feeling, the sense of community of interests, the conviction of human unity, ease of identification of each with all and of common consecration to the interests of all.

WANTED, SUPERMEN!

Wanted—men and women large enough to live the life of the time.

Wanted—the wisdom to select, as superlative purpose, the development of Personal Worth sufficient to compass and master, efficiently and beautifully, all one's interests, doings, pursuits, contacts, experiences, thoughts and aspirations.

Remember—a Superman has a spiritual surplus!

Don't you want to live and die rich—in spirit?

FINANCIAL CRASH

Jones—Giddon bet all the money he had in the bank that he would walk a slack wire for twenty feet.

Brown—Did he win or lose?

Jones—He lost his balance.
